

Editor Pinney May Recover Say Doctors

According to Rev. Ellzie, who returned from Hannibal Wednesday morning with Ed Timmerstein, Alden Pinney, Benton publisher injured in auto wreck Monday night, may recover. He regained consciousness Wednesday morning, and barring complications has a chance to recover. His fourth vertebra is crushed, but there is no injury to the spinal cord. At present Mr. Pinney is enclosed in a plaster cast, in which he must remain for at least six weeks.

THE EDITOR SAYS—

We rejoice with the Frisco railroad officials over the fact that the Railroad Credit Corporation, branch of the R. F. C., has approved a million dollar loan in the face of threatened receivership. That's fine, and probably bespeaks the usual form of doing business on a large scale. In the meantime, we can point with some degree of satisfaction to two letters from the Chairman of the R. F. C. in which two modest requests for loans of $3000 and $5000, respectfully were turned down cold turkey. The amounts mentioned were to be used in a transportation program scheduled at this time in order to take advantage of bankrupt prices for certain printing machinery. Oh well!

Big Business, especially The Power Trust, uses every endeavor to discourage opposition to their interests, and from their standpoint are perfectly right. The Mayor of Murphysboro, Ill., and some of the Aldermen and other interested citizens visited Sikeston Monday to look over the Sikeston Municipal Plant and get information as to how Sikeston proceeded to put over our plant. The Standard editor was told by these gentlemen that the principal opposition to a municipal plant in their city came from moneyed interests who held a share or two in the local power corporation. They likewise informed us that much of this opposition had vanished since the Insull bubble had burst and these men found they had been receiving a dividend out of their own money. Reading between the lines, leads us to believe pressure from the Power Trust of Arkansas has been used on a certain Sikeston firm to keep Dan Pepper away from Newport, Bluffville and other Arkansas cities who wish information on municipal ownership. Other cities having municipal ownership were glad to come to Sikeston to assist us and we regret that pressure has been put on our superintendent to keep him from furnishing information and lending assistance to our neighboring cities. No pressure can be put on The Standard that will keep us from assisting if called upon.

Notwithstanding the extreme hot and dry weather, Sikeston Parks have kept fairly presentable all summer. The Legion Park, thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Heinie Henry, has been kept green all along. Lon Swanner and his assistants have kept other parks mowed and in good condition, especially those bordering Highway 60 through the city. The only unsightly places are the overgrown railroad tracks of the Missouri Pacific which pass through Sikeston. Travelers are given a fine impression of Sikeston as Highway 61 skirting the city show the High School buildings and grounds, the State Highway Buildings and grounds and the International Shoe Factory building and grounds. We should all be proud of our city, our homes and our parks, for few cities of this size have so much to be proud of during these trying times.

Regardless of whether the railroads were forced through competition to lower freight rates in this territory, or whether the reduction came as a matter of course voluntarily, the fact remains that the cotton industry here and in the district will benefit. The success of dollar excursions to St. Louis and Memphis should be evidence in fact to rail officials that profitable volume can be secured at a price even under present business conditions. We hope that similar established principles will be applied to freight rates. Right now a slightly reduced tariff has been applied for on newsprint, but how it will affect this and other offices we are unable to state. We believe it would prove mutually beneficial to the railroads to add to their traffic department a corps of traveling agents instructed to work with manufacturers, jobbers and small retail units in order that the million and one classifications, rates, schedules, tariffs and what-nots might be clarified and utilized.

It is quite often possible to save half or more on freight costs by changing the style of package, container or crate; by routing shipments correctly, etc. Such good-will building efforts made with the sincere intention of rendering service at the lowest possible cost could not but have its effect in restoring confidence in, and building permanent business for the greatest single organized transportation industry—the railroads.

COUNCIL TO DEFER MEETING UNTIL 7TH
Due to the fact that the first Monday in September falls on Labor Day this year, the City Council will postpone its monthly session until the day following, according to P. H. Stevenson, city clerk.

VAN HORNE NAMED CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF BY G O P

F. W. Van Horne of this city, at present serving an unexpired term on the County Court bench was the unanimous choice Tuesday night of the Republican County Committee in session at Benton for the purpose of filling the ticket for the November election. Van Horne has been associated with his father-in-law, Green B. Greer, locally in extensive farm interests, and for several years past also maintained an office here as cotton buyer and representative of the Mass. Harris Farm Machinery Corporation. He came to Sikeston about 17 years ago, being employed as teacher on the Sikeston school faculty.

As County Judge, the candidate for sheriff succeeded Wallace Applegate, Democrat, who resigned in order to accept an out-State proposition. Van Horne was appointed to fill the vacancy by Gov. Gault.

The Committee also named Jno. Weber, farmer living between Benton and Commerce, as candidate for assessor to run opposite J. D. O'Connor, choice of the Democratic party at the August 2 primary.

Members attending the meeting included Walter Clymer, proxy for Mrs. W. E. Hollingsworth, Byron Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. House, Mrs. J. E. Nienstedt, Bill Moore, P. N. Mills, Mrs. Joe Hawkins, Loren Tomlinson, Mrs. Fey Brady, Marion Murphy, Mrs. Maud of Chaffee, Joe Brady, Miss Opal Daugherty, Everett Dye and Miss Leona Timmerstein.

The next committee will be held at Fornell next Tuesday evening.

LIBRARY HOURS TO BE CHANGED
According to Mrs. C. A. Cook, local librarian, the library will not be open Labor Day, September 5, and beginning Wednesday, September 7 the hours will be changed from the regular summer morning hours to the hours of from one to five o'clock in the afternoon.

BLOOMFIELD 30-PIECE BAND TO GIVE HOUR PROGRAM HERE THURSDAY

According to an announcement received Wednesday from E. C. O'Neal, president of the Stoddard County Home Coming Festival, the thirty-piece Bloomfield band will visit Sikeston this week Thursday and will render a one-hour program in order to advertise the county get-together event scheduled to be held in Bloomfield, September 30, October 1.

In addition to band music, the visitors will entertain with a male quartette and a few old-time fiddlers to give Sikeston folks a real musical treat.

"We hope the people of Sikeston will come out and hear our program," writes Mr. O'Neal, "as there will be no cost, and the thirty-piece band has a reputation of being a good one. It will first appear on the streets of the city, and go from there to the City Park (Malone) for the remainder of the program which will last for an hour or more."

SCOTT COUNTY COURT FINDS BOOKS OF TREASURER FELKER OK

Members of the Scott County Court which finished a four-day audit of the Treasurer's office Tuesday this week, gave C. E. Felker a clean bill of health, and stated that the entire set of books maintained in the office was in perfect order. Each of the many accounts balanced to a penny, according to one member of the Court.

SCHOOL MUST NOT SLUMP SAYS SUPT. ROY V. ELLISE

School opens Monday, September 5th, and we ask for the hearty co-operation of all, as in the past, to make this year better than ever. It will be bigger, and must be run on less money, but the QUALITY of the work MUST NOT SLUMP.

We hope to teach the fundamentals, the essentials, not only in the basic school subjects but in training for good citizenship, worthy membership, character, wise use of leisure, etc. If this younger generation can be taught to place the proper value on satisfactions, the fluctuations of depression and prosperity will affect them less.

In place of artificial standards, inflated hopes, false gods and thwarted ambitions they will tie to the things of real worth. We are only one of many institutions educating your children, and we ask that you help us to serve well.

Respectfully yours,
ROY V. ELLISE, Supt.

Unemployed Youth, 20, Killed Early Thursday By Frisco Train Near Oran

Jesse Porter, 20, son of an unemployed miner living at 816 East Poplar Street, Taylorville, Ill., was instantly killed and his cousin, Kerwin Blurtson son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Blurtson, living 1 mile east of Oran, seriously injured, when the boys were struck by a southbound Frisco passenger train about one mile north of Oran at 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

The two young men had been in Taylorville trying to get work in the mines, but following an unsuccessful attempt were hiking back to the Blurtson home. They had walked two days without having anything to eat and stopped to rest a few minutes, according to the Blurtson youth.

They fell asleep on the tracks, he stated, but he was awakened by the humming of the rails and tried to jump out of danger. The locomotive struck a glancing blow, however, crushing his right hip and breaking the thigh bone. His companion, Porter, was killed instantly.

The body was removed to the T. F. Heisserer Funeral Home Oran, where an inquest, conducted Thursday morning by Coroner G. R. Dempster resulted in a verdict of accidental death. Mr. and Mrs. Porter were notified, but was unable to speak definitely regarding funeral arrangements until she spoke to her husband. It is believed that the body will be buried near Oran.

The boys, ironically enough, were within two miles of their destination when the fatal accident happened.

Sikeston Takes Time Out From Business to View Eclipse of Sun

The partial eclipse of Old Sol Wednesday afternoon placed a premium on bits of window pane glass, and old kodak film as hundreds of Sikestonians hunched over smoking flames to secure just the proper amount of carbon to view the celestial show.

According to press reports from the East, scene of feverish activity on the part of hundreds of scientific expeditions, clouds partially obscured the sun during the period of total darkness. This vicinity was particularly fortunate in having a clear view of the entire show, with the possible exception of a few minutes when occasional drifting clouds obscured the view.

Watchers reported the first "nick" out of the sun a few minutes after one o'clock, and soon thereafter streets, alleys and lawns were dotted with interested lookers.

This area was not favored with a total eclipse. The point of greatest interest was reached approximately at 2:45, when about 70 per cent of the sun's surface was hid from view. At that time the earth assumed a sickly yellowish hue, best described by a member of the Highway Division 10 force as "billious".

One of the best "glasses" with which to view the eclipse, was found by Miss Dorothy Walker, who had secured a piece of exposed X-ray film. Keep that in mind for the next show of this nature—in the year 1963.

DEAN AND THREE CARDS TO PLAY C'STON OCT. 2

Dizzy "The Great" Dean and three of his St. Louis Cardinal plans will oppose the Cape Girardeau Capahans at Charleston October 2, according to H. G. Simpson, who has definite promise from the four Red Birds to carry out the arrangement. VanGilder will probably serve as moundsman for the Capahans.

October 2 happens to be the first Sunday in the month, and Simpson is quite sure that the presence of the Dizzy One, Pepper Martin, Paul Derringer and Jimmy Wilson will prove sufficient to attract at least 2500 fans at 75c each.

The Red Birds will play for a gate percentage.

COTTON COMING IN SLOWLY SAY GINNERS

With a total of 56 bales of cotton ginned by the Sikeston and Planters Gins up to Thursday, 1:30 o'clock, gin managers expressed the opinion that the crop was moving to market rather slowly here. Continued hot weather will do much to speed up the process, however, they said.

HEQUEMBOURG NAMED ON 14TH DISTRICT REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

According to W. E. Hollingsworth, who attended the annual Fourteenth Congressional District Republican meeting at Willow Springs Tuesday, Frank Hequembourg of Charleston was named District Chairman to succeed Carl Bloker of Caruthersville.

POWDER PUFF BEAUTY SHOP HAS NEW MACHINE

Miss Ruby Sidel, a special representative of E. Fredericks in scalp treatment, is now in the Powder Puff Beauty Shop introducing a new scientific treatment for hair and scalp with the new Fredericks Ultra-Violet Ray Vaporizer, a machine which has just been installed in the Shop owned and operated by Mrs. Mae Martin and Miss Mabel McElroy.

This machine is said to produce Ultra Violet Radiation (Vitamin D) for the hair and scalp to stimulate and revitalize the scalp and restore health, beauty and lustre to the hair. It is the only machine of its kind in Sikeston and adds much to the already efficient equipment of that shop.

NEIGHBOR DAY QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN SEPT. 9

Benton, September 1.—Favorable consideration is being given to the Scott County Neighbor Day Committee on prizes to be given for exhibits and events for October 6th. Sikeston in particular has been very liberal this year and almost 100% contribution has been made by those who have been solicited. On the basis of those given have more prizes this year, seen so far, Neighbor Day should than any other year in the past.

The selection of the Neighbor Day Queen will be made at the Court House at Benton, Friday night, September 9th at 7:30 p. m. Each of the high schools in the County is to be represented at this time. Invitations are being sent to the various high schools in the county.

This year the Queen will be crowned on a new stand and throne which replaces the original stand built years ago. The queen this year will receive a diamond ring, donated by the Lange Jewelry Store of Cape Girardeau.

TILGHMAN AND KIRBY PAY FINES OF $25 EACH

Fines of $25 each were assessed in police court against Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman and Raymond Kirby, charged jointly with being drunk and disorderly Saturday night at the Princess Pat Barbecue Stand. A complaint was signed by Miss Mary Larkin, proprietress of the place.

Kelly Orr, arrested Tuesday on complaint of Mrs. Maude Sitze, who alleged Orr had damaged a room while drunk and disorderly, was fined $30. The penalty is conditional, however, and will be reduced to $12 when and if Orr repairs the alleged damages.

REFLECTORS MOUNTED AT ATHLETIC FIELD

Board of Public Works workmen this week mounted the twenty huge reflectors at the Sikeston high school athletic field, and will proceed to hook up the circuit soon. The plan calls for a four-way, three-wire circuit, so arranged to permit a fractional part of all of the lights to be burned at once.

The first three games of football to be played under the new "glims" are Matthews, September 23; Portageville, September 30; and Charleston, October 7. Games will be started at 7:30 o'clock.

Home-Made Burglar Alarm Leads to Arrest of Negroes Thursday

Three negro boys, Ernest, Willie and Stanley Chatman were picked up by officers Gid Daniels and Toots Nall about 4 o'clock Thursday morning, after a trio of citizens headed by C. C. Buchanan had entertained one of the gang with a barrage of pistol and shot gun fire which culminated in a series of night visits to the Buchanan Store and Filling Station on South Kingshighway.

For the past several months, Mr. Buchanan had missed merchandise from the place. About 60 days ago a watch, given to the proprietor by his father as an heirloom, was stolen. A few nights later a box of John Ruskin cigars disappeared, and thirty days ago the night prowler left with four sacks of flour and a sackful of miscellaneous goods.

Mr. Buchanan and a neighbor, Ray Taylor, then appointed themselves as a watchman committee of two, who kept their nightly vigil for a week straight without success. Mr. Buchanan finally got tired of the all-night sessions and rigged up a home-made burglar alarm, the secret of which remains in his possession.

It worked, however, in a very successful manner about 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Mr.

Buchanan slipped out of bed with his .38 special and eased around to the filling station. An outside electric light switch was touched, and one of the negro boys was caught in the act of stuffing canned goods into a tow sack. Instead of complying with an order to "stick 'em up", the youth dashed out of the rear door, and the zero hour barrage opened with Goble Glass firing from the south exposure, Buchanan holding the north wing, and Ray Taylor blazing away from the northeast sector with an automatic shotgun.

Other than increasing the stride of the fugitive, the shots did not take effect.

Officers Daniels and Nall arrived on the scene by that time, however, and trailed the fleeing youth and his two companions who joined the flight at the intersection of a nearby lane and Highway 61. One of the trio confessed, according to Mr. Buchanan.

The three boys were released on bond furnished by Bill Baker. As an anti-climax to the Buchanan affair, a negro who had robbed the Murray Klein hen roost, was challenged by a negro living in one of the Klein cabins, who had been aroused by the shooting. The rooster dropped his sack, and the chickens were recovered.

Promoters of Doniphan Hydro-Electric Company Talk to Local Investors

H. M. Townsend and W. O. Krueger, chief engineer of the Doniphan Hydro-Electric Company, Inc., visited Sikeston investors this week in the interests of the proposed project on Current River near that city.

The proposal to build a dam and hydro-electric plant one and one-half miles upstream from Doniphan is still in the promotional stage, but it is backed by Holland, Ackerman and Holland, engineers of Chicago, and by the Continental Utilities Development Company, also of Chicago. At this stage of the game the promoters, including a Doniphan-managed corporation assisted by Mr. Townsend and Mr. Krueger, is attempting to raise sufficient capital through the issuance of 10,000 shares of common stock to pay for engineering, and incidental matters which, if carried to a successful completion, will lead to securing adequate financial backing to build the 3 1/2 to 4 million dollar project.

Should the "one chance in one hundred" arise, and some unforeseen difficulty occur, investors will lose everything. The stock is being sold on that basis.

Preliminary engineering data has established the fact, however, that the project is fundamentally sound from a practical standpoint. Current River has been checked to have a low flow of 1170 cubic feet per second; a maximum flow of 10,700 C. F. S. or a mean normal of 3252, sufficient to generate current as follows using a 100-foot head of water:

1170 C. F. S. would generate a maximum total of 136,423,860 KWH at an estimated total sales value of $477,583.51 @ 3 1/2 mills per KWH. The maximum flow of 10,700 CFS would permit the production of 370,329,000 KWH worth at 3 1/2 mills per KWH, $1,296,151.50.

Taking the mean average as a basis, engineers estimate the production of 253,376,420 KWH worth on the basis of 3 1/2 mills, $886,817.47.

Several dam sites have been tentatively selected, but the one meeting with greatest favor is one 1 1/2 miles upstream from Doniphan, to be constructed to a height of 100 feet, 2710 feet long.

If everything is carried through without difficulty, it might be possible to start actual construction within 90 to 120 days, according to Mr. Krueger.

Hannibal, Mo., August 31.—Jefferson City was chosen for the 1933 convention of the Missouri department of the American Legion at the final session late yesterday of the fourteenth annual meeting, at which Jesse W. Barrett, of St. Louis, former attorney general of Missouri, was elected State commander. Mrs. Clark Hudson of University City was chosen president of the Women's Auxiliary. New vice-commanders of the Legion are: Edward Mc-Cracken, Warrenton; Thomas Anselm, Festus; Earl H. Shackleford, Hannibal; Dr. W. R. Bosworth, Booneville; Mrs. Jean Wells, Webster Groves, and Alexander E. Evans, St. Louis. Other officers chosen: A. C. Bass, Warrensburg, finance officer; James M. Reeves, Caruthersville, judge advocate; the Rev. Thomas Dyer, Odessa, chaplain; Murray Elsworth, Kansas City, sergeant-at-arms; Geo. Fiske, national committeeman; Paul J. Robinette, Hartsville, alternate committeeman.

Downie Brothers Circus To Show Here On Ball Park Lot Tuesday, 13th

Fred C. Kilgore, contracting agent of Downie Bros. Circus, spent Tuesday in the city making arrangements for the appearance of the circus here Tuesday, September 13 at the Sikeston Baseball Park east of the city on No. 61.

Downie Brothers Circus, which is under the personal management of Charles Sparks, veteran showman, is said to be the largest show on the road that still retains the old-time street parade. Kilgore stated that he experienced little difficulty in making arrangements for large orders of supplies such as meat, bread, milk groceries to feed the large circus, as well as the feed necessary for the many animals.

The ten-acre ball park tract, according to Kilgore, will be adequate to accommodate the large main tent, managerie, cooking tents, stables, dressing rooms and auxiliary equipment.

Bill posting cars will arrive in the city within a short time to place their brilliant circus posters on billboards and in show windows.

WILL BUILD NEW HOME IN SIKESTON

Work is to start this fall on a new residence on the lot east of the Charles Tanner home on Tanner Street. Mrs. Anna Winchester and Mrs. Robert Lillard are planning the dwelling, according to one informant.

DICK MITCHELL IMPROVES FOLLOWING OPERATION

The condition of Dick Mitchell, Sikeston man who underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, was reported to be satisfactory today. Mitchell has been associated with Barney Wagner here for the past several years.

Condition of Alden Pinney Serious; Suffered Broken Back in Automobile Wreck

Alden Pinney, owner and publisher of the Benton Democrat, is still in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Hannibal, Mo., where he was taken late Monday following an automobile wreck near Ewing, Mo., south of the river city.

According to telephone reports from the hospital, Editor Pinney sustained a double fracture, but whether the spinal cord is injured was not stated. Hospital authorities stated that Mr. Pinney remained in a semi-conscious state most of the time, and they held out hope for his partial recovery, provided paralysis did not set in. Mr. and Mrs. Pinney, accompanied by Mrs. Effie Gayle, sister of Mrs. Pinney, were returning from their annual visit in Iowa, when their machine collided with another car. Mrs. Pinney and Mrs. Gayle escaped with minor injuries, but suffered considerably from nervous shock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Timmerstein and Rev. W. C. Ellzey, all of Benton, drove to Hannibal Tuesday to visit the injured man. Mr. Pinney, besides editing the Benton Democrat school, headed the Neighcrat at Benton, served as superintendent of the Methodist church for Day event as chairman, and was actively connected with Lions Club work in Benton and this district.

AREA SCOUT SWIM FINALS TO BE HELD HERE LABOR DAY

Boy Scouts from five districts will participate in an Area Swimming contest in the Chaney Natatorium on Labor Day, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Each of the five districts to be represented will have had a preliminary meet by that time to determine first and second individual winners who will start in the Area meet.

For the purpose of conducting the preliminary meets, the Southeast Missouri Council was divided into five districts. The Cape Girardeau District consists of Cape and Jackson troops. Dr. A. J. Rasche, Activities Chairman, will be in charge.

Dr. H. H. Cornwell and Charles Leonard Kirk will have charge of the Charleston meet with troops from that city and from East Prairie participating.

The Poplar Bluff meet will be in charge of Bob Wells and B. A. Welscher with troops from Doniphan, Birch Tree and Poplar Bluff participating.

For this meet a new district will be formed, consisting of Bloomfield, Dexter, Malden, Gideon and Kennett. The preliminaries will be conducted at Dexter with W. H. Griffin in charge.

Sikeston Meet Tuesday
Scouts from the Sikeston district, including troops from Blodgett, Morehouse, Morley, Benton and two local troops, participated in their preliminary affair last Tuesday evening, taking part in ten events, swan dive, jack knife, choice dive, comic dive, 20-yard free speed style, 20-yard back stroke, plunge for distance, egg and spoon race, tired swimmers within 10 pounds of carrier, and 4-carry race with subject weighing man relay, each lap 40 feet.

Trophies will also be presented to the troops winning in Class A and B, blue ribbons to all making between 40 to 60 points, and white ribbons to all making from 10 to 40 points. None but contestants will be guests of the Sikeston District and will not be required to pay for swimming privileges.

The public is invited to attend.

81 ROAD PROJECTS ATTRACT 507 BIDDERS

Jefferson City, August 31.—The State Highway Commission today received 507 bids on 81 'handwork' highway projects. The bids were the first received under the department's emergency program, designed to give employment to approximately 9000 unemployed Missouri men. Low bidders will not be announced before tomorrow.

Contractors will be required to use manpower instead of machines wherever possible. Another requirement is that local labor be employed as far as practical. The minimum wage for unskilled labor is 35 cents an hour and 50 cents for skilled labor. No laborer will be allowed to work more than 30 hours in any week.

GIRL FILES COMPLAINT AGAINST LOCAL YOUTH

Miss Mildred Waters Blake, 18, filed a complaint Wednesday, charging Woodrow Fitzgerald with disturbing the peace and using loud, boisterous and abusive language last Monday evening. Fitzgerald entered a plea of guilty and was fined $3.00 and costs.

WHY NOT A REST ROOM FOR SHOPPERS HERE?

The City of Kennett is leading the way with a civic proposition which, to say the least, is not often given serious consideration by Sikeston merchants, civic organizations and the City Council. Kennett established a Women's Rest Room several years ago. The wisdom of the idea is best set forth by the following news item which appeared in the August 30 issue of the Dunklin Democrat, twice-a-week newspaper of that city:

"A total of 59,075 persons have registered at the Woman's Rest Room here from August 29, 1931 to August 29, 1932. This means that the Rest Room has benefited more than 162 people each day in the year. At times three have been more than 700 to register in one day."

The room, maintained by popular subscription, has shown itself to be a service to the people of this community. Farmers' wives and children, strangers and out-of-town people have found it to be a place where they could rest when they come to Kennett to shop, where they get out of the cold or the heat, where they could find a drink of water when thirsty, or a bed to lie on when tired or sick.

"The place is kept clean and homelike under the careful supervision of Mrs. Emma Slicer. Local citizens have been generous in contributing magazines for the use of the visitors. The above figures have proven how worthwhile the Room is."

Several years ago Sikeston maintained such a place, but lack of foresight in not appointing a caretaker soon led to an unbearable condition and eventual closing of the room. The two city rooms in the City Hall are now under lock and key.

Why not send a committee of three councilmen to Kennett some afternoon to study the situation?

Sunday, M. J. Goings, 79 years of age of Carbondale, Ill., died at the moment of a deafening thunder clap. Guess he thought it was Gabriel sounding his trumpet and gave up the ghost at the first blast.

Unionville—New pump installed at new city reservoir.

Some individuals and some newspapers may feel that they are stultifying themselves if they support Francis M. Wilson for governor, on the theory that he is a boss-endorsed and boss-controlled candidate. There is no question that he had the support, openly, of Thomas J. Pendergast, usually alluded to as the Kansas City boss. But on the other hand, Edw. H. Winter had the support and endorsement and was bodily catapulted into winning place by the Hyde-Caulfield-Clements Republican machine, every bit as much a machine and a boss-controlled outfit as that which supported Wilson. So what is one going to do—turn from ne machine to the other or stay with the party's candidate? S far as this newspaper is concerned, we have taken with a grain of salt the diatribes and invective hurled against Pendergast and we stated many months ago that if it takes Democratic machines to beat Republican machines, suppose we have a few of them. That is the only way Republicanism ever gained the ascendancy in Missouri and if it is the only way Democracy can redeem itself in the State, we're for it. Republicans will make poor headway howling "machine" at Democrats this year, for there could not be a better instance of machine politics and its efficiency than in Winter's nomination over Becker. It was the case of one machine crushing another—Becker's Missouri-made and manned machine could not stand up under the State-federal machine of his opponents, and that's all there was to that. We hoped to see Dearmont win the nomination—over Wilson, not because we were so much concerned with the "boss" issue but because we preferred a Southeaster Missourian and a man of the party without the help of Mr. Pendergast's bailiwick. Being the choice of the party in the State naturally we're for him. He is better qualified and more capable to be governor than Mr. Winter and will be elected. Winter is a nice fellow and has been fortunate in politics thus far, but we don't know of a single thing in his history or public record which shows that he is of gubernatorial stature. —Caruthersville Democrat.

The question of the holding company, that is being widely discussed at present, is rather complicated. We should say it boils down to about this: Let us persuade a lot of investors to put their money in various operating companies. Then let us form a holding company and induce them to turn over to us the control of what we can furnish superior management. Having done this, we will be in a position to soak both the customers of the operating companies with high rates, and the investors in the operating companies, by milking these companies for the benefit of our holding company. Pretty sweet for the holding company, but tough on the consumers and investors, isn't it?—Kansas City Times.

They Say—Says The Man About Town

By ART L. WALLHAUSEN

From the Glasgow Missourian comes the information that tramps have discovered a weed growing around the stock pens which rolled into cigarettes produce a cheap, but complete jag. The Missourian knows the name, but won't tell.

You know how leggers supply information. Well, through channels comes the word that in Old Kaintucky, the boys are having difficulty disposing of their beer at a nickle a bottle, and year old in the cask liquor at $2.00 per gallon.

This depression is sure hell.

And from around the St. Joseph area come reports that the Farmer's Blockade in Iowa is playing heck with the rum runners in that neck of the woods. Even the boys peddling "Real" Canadian stuff are having difficulty in breaking thru.

Uncle Sam insists that bootleggers pay income tax on profits, and now Iowa farmers recognize the industry as an adjunct of farming.

Pretty soon the Anti-Saloon League will be urging the boys not to use kettles which do not carry the seal of approval attached by Good Housekeeping, and the Fire Underwriters.

Trooper Melvin Dace finally solved the mystery of a Michigan midget car which hopped off the pavement every 50 feet, near Sikeston on No. 61. The driver had hiccup.

If anyone tells you Scott County has an edge on pavement in the State of Missouri, you tell 'em about Lafayette. The county has three primary slabs and a fourth one approved from Concordia in Waverly. In fact, Lafayette runs St. Louis County a close second with a total road cost of $6,710, 185. That's $150 per capita, and the amazing ratio of $622 per car licensed in the county.

Frenchmen devoted to the memory of Napoleon are making another effort to bring back to France the ashes of Napoleon's son. He was buried in Austria, where he was practically a prisoner for the whole 22 years of his life.

MOTHER INDUCES YOUTH TO SERVE REST OF SENTENCE

When a prisoner escapes from a road crew here and is later recaptured, that's unusual, but when another escaped prisoner serving a few days for a minor infraction of the law returns voluntarily and brings his bedding to make his stay more comfortable—that's a feature story.

Harley Ratcliff and Hurston Taylor were fined here recently and both proceeded to start the long, slow process of working it out under the supervision of Lon Swanner, Street Commissioner. Both took French leave. Chief Kendall and Mr. Swanner journeyed to Marston last week and returned with Taylor, who thereby added 12 days to his sentence of 19½ for a total of 31½ days, but the officers were unable to locate Ratcliff.

Monday this week the youth drifted back with a quantity of bedding to make his stay here more comfortable. His mother had induced him to return and work out the remainder of a 12-day sentence.

He carries a key to his "room", which he keeps locked during the day while away on his round of duties with the street crew.

WHO CAN AFFORD IT?

By Bruce B. Brewer

"They can afford it—I can't." That argument, used by a local merchant when he is reminded that large national concerns profitably use small city advertising space, simply doesn't hold water.

In the first place, the big national concern probably grew to largeness from a start in using small city advertising. Secondly, it costs the national advertiser far more to use the paper than it does the local merchant.

"I Had To Take Some Kind of a Laxative Every Day," He Says

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills Regulated My Bowels Perfectly."

"I suffered with chronic constipation for twenty years. I finally reached the point where I had to take some kind of a laxative every day, but all they did was to purge my bowels and help me for the time being. Sargon Pills brought me my first and only lasting relief. They have there is another laxative like them in the world."—Mr. P. Harwood, 70 Lenox St., Rochester, N. Y.

"I No Longer Have To Dose Myself With Harsh Purgatives"

"Will Always Bless the Day She Started Sargon Soft Mass Pills."

"For the first time in six years I don't have to dose myself with harsh purgatives. All my troubles with constipation and biliousness were ended by Sargon Pills. My skin has changed to a clear, healthy color. These pills are different from any other laxative I have ever used. I'll always bless the day I took a friend's advice and started taking them."—Mrs. A. S. Treloar, 321 Lime Ave., Long Beach, Calif.

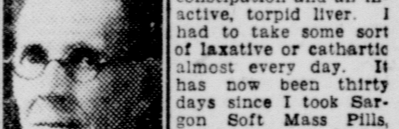

"For more than ten years I suffered from constipation and an inactive, torpid liver. I had to take some sort of laxative or cathartic almost every day. It has now been thirty days since I took Sargon Soft Mass Pills, and I no longer find it necessary to take pills or laxatives of any kind, for I am perfectly regulated."—Thomas C. Matthews, 1441 Wazee Street, Denver, Colo.

Is Now Perfectly Regulated First Time in 15 Years

Was Continually Taking Medicines Without Lasting Benefits.

"I was continually taking physics and laxatives but could find nothing to overcome my dreadful constipation. Thanks to Sargon Soft Mass Pills I now, for the first time in fifteen years, have regular and thorough bowel eliminations. This is the only laxative I ever used that works naturally and easily without the least griping or upsetting effects."—Mrs. Ella Warner, 641 E. 32nd St., Portland, Oregon.

The big advertiser must use thousands of papers. Divide the number of papers used into total sales and you quickly see how costly it is for him; and yet, he uses this advertising only because he knows by experience it pays him.

To illustrate: A national advertiser's sales in 1000 small cities are $2,000,000 annually. He spends for advertising an average of $100 in each small city, or $100,000 in all. His $100 in each city must bring $2000 in sales.

On the same basis, a retailer with sales of $10,000 should spend $500; with $25,000 he should spend $1250; on $50,000, his advertising should amount to $2500; on $100,000 it should be $5000.

In addition, the merchant secures a lower rate, so his money buys more advertising, which makes his advertising-sales cost lower. Now, "who can afford it?"

Eighteen skeletons, apparently those of Indians buried 200 years or more ago, have been found in a potato cellar excavation on the Henry Bisterfeldt farm southwest of Scott's Bluff, Nebr., and near the Scotts Bluff National Monument and Old Oregon Trail. All were buried closely together, mostly in pairs, and some were in a sitting posture. Two sea shell ornaments and a small polished stone were among them. Many of the bones crumbled on exposure pending arrival of University of Nebraska experts.

CANNERS AND KINGS

QUOTE PEOPLE are saying nowadays that there is plenty of everything, and that the only trouble is that our economic life is not so arranged as to make everything available to all. The canned foods industry is a direct contradiction of this contention. Take pineapple, for instance. Formerly only great lords and kings were able to grace their tables with that royal Hawaiian fruit. In Northern countries it was raised only under glass, and was not available, even to kings, fully ripened under the sun in its native habitat with all of its delicious fruit sugar, juices and nutritious qualities intact.

A Rare Treat
Now, thanks to the canning industry, it is available in this form, and the average man can feast more sumptuously on pineapple than the kings of old, and, thanks again to the canning industry, he can even consume such rare and dainty dishes as this one named after that famous grand opera star, Madame Melba. All the ingredients are now obtainable in cans and within reach of the average purse. Here's the recipe:

Melba Salad: Hollow out slightly the centers of eight large canned peach halves, chill well, and then place in beds of crisp lettuce. Drain one No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, and add eight marshmallows cut in eighths, and eight maraschino cherries cut in quarters. Pile in the peach cavities and sprinkle chopped walnuts over. Pipe rosettes of cream mayonnaise, tinted green, into small lettuce hearts, and top with a red cherry. Serves eight.

FISK CHILDREN SERIOUSLY HURT

Poplar Bluff, August 29.—Two 12-year-old boys of the Fisk District were severely injured and both had miraculous escapes from death when they were run over by an automobile as they lay asleep in the grass of the Little church yard near Fisk, about 8:30 o'clock last night.

The two lads, Edwadr Wilford, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wilford, and Kenny Deem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jiles Deem, farmers, together with Lloyd Deem and Ernest Wilford, younger boys, had gone to the church where a revival meeting was in progress. Lying down on one side of a grassy mound they talked for awhile and then all fell asleep. P. Saltzman of Fisk, pulling into the church yard, drove slowly up the other side of the mound and failed to see the sleeping boys. Both wheels of his car passed over Edward Wilford's left ankle, fracturing the bone. One wheel passed over Kenny Deem's chest. How the Deem boy escaped being killed is a mystery. The ground was soft, however, the grass was thick and apparently was resilient enough to prevent his chest being crushed. He was badly bruised and lacerated and was suffering much pain today but X-ray pictures failed to reveal any broken bones. Unless he is injured internally he will probably recover. The two younger boys were not run over.

Both injured lads were brought to the Lucy Lee Hospital for treatment.

Joplin Drum Corps Wins First Prize

Hannibal, August 30.—The Missouri Department of the American Legion, concluding its 14th annual convention here today, adopted a committee report favoring a cash bonus payment "as soon as it can be done with safety to financial structure of the country".

A bonus fight on the floor was expected, as the resolutions committee at first was divided on the question.

The resolutions committee also favored recommending to the national convention the appointment of a committee to revamp the entire legislative program of the Legion.

Threats of Fights

As the convention went into its final session today, there were threats of resolution fights, especially on the cash bonus issue.

On the question, the resolutions committee was divided, virtually assuring a floor contest. Prohibition also loomed as a possible issue.

Some delegates said they understood that Howell H. Heck of Butler will withdraw as a candidate for State Commander, and that much of his strength will go to Leslie Freeman, St. Louis county candidate.

Supporters of Jesse W. Barrett of St. Louis claimed their candidate was "in" while supporters of Gen. W. A. Rump of Pierce City expressed confidence that the outcome would be sufficient to name their favorite.

The election was not expected to be held before late today.

Hannibal, August 30.—Joplin won first prize of $300 in the drum corps contest of the American Legion State Convention, it was announced at the opening of today's session.

MISSOURI FARMERS WEEK SET FOR OCT. 18-20 AT COLUMBIA

The announcement that Senator Smith W. Brookhart is to be drafted by the Farmer-Labor party as its candidate for the senate signifies the return of a political prodigal. In his political youth Mr. Brookhart associated with the radical groups of his native Iowa. In maturity he sought the spoils of office as a Republican. He found the Republican label useful. His sense of party responsibility was slight—to put it mildly. Last spring Henry Filled, a wise-cracking seed merchant, started the prodigal on his return trip by kidding him out of the Republican nomination for the senate. Now the cycle is complete. Mr. Brookhart, rejected by Iowa Republicans, returns to his original and proper fold.—New York Post.

BOBWHITE AND WILD TURKEY TO BE PLACED IN STATE PARKS JAN. 1

Augmenting the recent purchase of 1000 Virginia Bobwhite quail, John H. Ross, commissioner of the Missouri game and fish department, has contracted for the purchase of 600 wild turkeys which also are to be placed on the State parks and game refuges for brood stock. This is in line with the State department's policy of providing the finest available brood stock of native type game birds for the park and refuge breeding pens.

More than 2000 young turkeys raised on the parks and game refuges will be released after the close of the turkey hunting season January 1. Before that time the new brood stock, being purchased from the Lost Trail Lodge wild turkey farm operated by B. K. Leach near Lesterville, Mo., will be placed on the State-owned lands.

The birds purchased include 450 hens and 150 gobblers. They are pure bred wild turkeys and are of the finest strain obtainable in the United States. B. K. Leach, St. Louis lumberman, who owns the Lost Trail farm on Black River, produces more than 1000 wild turkeys each year. These birds are hatched and reared in the wilds along Black River, and because of their fine strain and breeding have been bringing high prices from eastern hunting clubs and estates for brood stock.

This lot of turkeys will be placed on the game breeding areas at Meramec, Indian Trail, Deer Run and Sam A. Baker State Parks. Young birds from this stock will be distributed throughout the turkey country of Missouri's Ozarks which includes more than a score of counties south of the Missouri River.

HIS AMBITION

Adah McRaven
His hair was rumpled,
And his pants not pressed,
But the soul within him,
Was supremely at rest.

He smiled on his neighbors,
Had a good word for all,
When his better half jawed at him,
He didn't hear at all.

He was reading his paper at peace with the world,
When wifely started in to talk,
Down in his chair he curled.

Now Jim, I've just been thinking,
There's our neighbor Brown
He's running for sheriff,
The smartest man in town.

It seems to me you're just as smart
As that man dares to be!
Why don't you run for something too
An' see how proud I'd be!

The dear wife's face was all aglow
Her loving eyes just shone,
What's your ambition, dear? she said

At last he scratched his frowns head,
An' then his funny bone,
"My ambition is", he drawled at last,

"Just to be let alone!"

MISSOURI BOOK AND MOVIE TO REPRESENT STATE AT EXPOSITION

Two items of special importance occupied the attention of the members of the Missouri Century of Progress Commission, at a meeting held at Sedalia during the State Fair last week. They were the publication of an official "Missouri book" and a proposed production of a moving picture to exhibit at the Exposition in Chicago next year.

Otto Botz, printer and publisher of Jefferson City, outlined details of a plan for the publication. He suggested to the World's Fair Commissioners the production of a book which will represent the growth of various industries, agriculture and other factors of progress throughout the State, and include data on each of the 114 counties and all the major cities and towns.

C. P. Melton, Vice-President and General Manager of the National Cinema Service of St. Louis, presented a plan for making a three-reel "movie of Missouri", which would be shown in a more or less continuous performance to visitors at the Missouri exhibits.

The movie, Mr. Melton suggested, should present some of this State's history, and display in a swiftly moving scenario the tremendous strides the State has made in all forms of industrial activity. It would show also the beauty of outdoor Missouri, featuring the parks and recreational centers.

The Commissioners took both these plans under advisement. Members of the Century of Progress Commission are Hunter L. Gary of Kansas City, chairman; R. E. L. Mays of Carthage, secretary; J. G. Morgan of Unionville, A. M. Clark of Richmond, E. A. Duensing of Jefferson City, H. C. Chancellor of Lamar and Paul Groeschel of Marshall.

Our 34 Year in S. E. Mo.

This store makes no wild claims of superiority, "super" efficiency, "miracle" merchandising, etc., etc. We do claim however, that during our 34 years in Southeast Missouri ENERGY and INDUSTRY within the store ranks have not been allowed to lag for a day, nor will that thing happen to function.

Perhaps it was Mr. Edison who said 90% of his inventions were results of "perspiration" rather than "inspiration".

Ambition and imagination have their rightful places, but old fashioned HARD work is indispensable to any worthy endeavor. And therefore we will continue our daily grind of serving up the best home furnishing menu the markets afford at prices average folks can afford to pay.

Among many worthy items known from coast to coast we will again offer Coles Hot Blast Heaters to the trade this season. Medium price heaters may come and go, but our experience proves none are more dependable than Coles.

Our stock of Circulating Heaters will also be made up dependable models at prices that may possibly surprise you because they are so low. Old heaters may be traded in as part pay and the balance settled in weekly payments.

Mohair Living Room Suites have held the lead for some years, but a change in styles of upholstery material is definitely taking place. Mohairs have not "gone out" but the soft pretty shades and colorings in Tapestry are gaining in popularity. We have a nice shipment in transit.

Referring again to our Used Department, your attention is directed to the fact that there are eight or ten good ranges there, including two Majestics and one Monarch. There are also some excellent circulator heaters there at bargain figures. Better choose yours early.

Judge Frank W. Van Horne of Sikeston was given a place on the Scott County Republican slate. He will be the candidate for sheriff. Of course, we are not going to vote for him because we are a Democrat, but we are going to say nothing against him, because we know nothing against him. We have known him since he was a boy, and during that time, he has had no reason to criticize him except that he voted the Republican ticket and he had a perfect right to do that. If he is elected, we believe he will make an honest and conscientious officer, but we don't think he'll be elected.

Every once in a while we give away advice. To be sure it is hardly ever heeded, but it worries us not. This time it is to owners of pistols or revolvers. If you can't shoot to hit, or to kill, when a burglar arrives and the chance of your life to do something for society, then practice up a bit or throw your pistol away and keep an assortment of quarter bricks by your bedside handy and feel confident of your ability to throw straighter than you can shoot. The bombardment of Wednesday night brought forth this advice.

A food specialist states that growing offspring should have a mid-afternoon repast. A doctor and a mid-afternoon repast is not exactly the picture that rises before the eye of a middle aged parent. The figure that he sees, with a tinge of regret that the past cannot be recalled, is the figure of a vanished child, calling: "Ma, kin I have some grub?"

As an average, income tax receipts this year were 43 per cent below those of 1930. Alaska, with a drop of but 8 per cent made the best showing. Colorado was hit hardest, reporting a falling off of 66 per cent. The District of Columbia, supposed to be beyond the reach of money troubles, was close to the average, the tax gleanings there being 41 per cent short. Indiana, New York, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin reflect the general state of reduced incomes, those States returning the average mark of 43 per cent.

Over in Italy, Prof. Pickard has risen in a balloon to a height of about fifty-five thousand feet, thereby breaking a world's record. The mere figures are impressive, but may be made more forcible by illustration and example. The tip of Mt. McKinley in Alaska is the highest point within the territory of the United States. If it were possible to set one Mt. McKinley on top of another, Prof. Pickard would have cleared the towering mass by a distance greater than the height of Pike's Peak.

Trans-Atlantic fliers seems to be under the displeasure of the "god of bounds" referred to by Mr. Emerson, the deity who tells men how far they can go in their endeavors. Once was enough for Col. Lindbergh, and Mr. Molson, who has crossed recently from east to west, admits that the passage was "very difficult indeed". The god of bounds is likely to retain forever a portion of his power. No one can be a sculptor; yet Science has trimmed the prerogatives of other gods, and so far as trans-Atlantic flying is concerned, boundaries which none can pass today with certain safety, may sometime become as harmless as Mason and Dixon's line.

Lady Agnew, of Oxford, England, advertises in a New York paper that she has a house to rent in her home town at $17.50 per week. Anyone who thinks that the English are not up and doing, has another guess coming. Moreover, if American newspapers can be relied upon by foreigners to consummate a long range small scale transaction, they should be used more extensively as advertising media by people living nearer to the press room.

It is said that good citizens should have an interest in politics. If this means that the public is going to be let in on the split, the offer is generous and novel.

Older residents of this section who have long contended that the rising generation has not the self-reliance of their forefathers, can find good proof to back up their sent out from Minneapolis. It argument in a dispatch recently states that the Red Cross had 47,000 sacks of flour to distribute to the needy, but less than a third of the sacks had been given out for the reason that the housewives in most of the families to be supplied wouldn't know what to do with the flour if they had it.

Beginning Saturday, September 10, Mrs. Hoover will conduct a week-day Bible School from the hours of 9 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock every Saturday morning for children from six to fourteen years of age. This school will probably last until Christmas. All children between these ages are invited to attend.

CHARLESTON GOLFERS EXTEND INVITATION TO OPEN TOURNAMENT

Invitations are being extended by the Charleston Country Club to players in Southeast Missouri, the Lead Belt, Northeast Arkansas, West Kentucky and Southern Illinois to attend the first annual invitation open tournament on the Charleston links, September 16, 17 and 18.

There will be three classes, Championship, Class A and Class B.

A total of thirty-six holes of golf will count in the championship score. Eighteen holes, to be played either on Friday, the 16th; Saturday, the 17th, or Sunday morning, September 18, will be used for classifying players in one of the three classes. The final eighteen holes are to be played Sunday afternoon.

In addition to giving suitable prizes in each of the three classes the Charleston Club also offers awards for:

Hole in one, lowest score on any nine holes, largest total number of "Birdies", and for "Eagles". An entry fee of $1 is being made.

Since the date September 18 conflicts with a scheduled friendly tournament with Cairo and the Sikeston Club, the match has been definitely postponed, according to C. C. Scott, match maker for the locals.

Sikeston will entertain Paragould, Ark., golfers here September 11 in a return engagement, and will probably play Blytheville on the 25th.

Sikeston ladies will utilize the local links Sunday, September 11, for their first match play tournament here.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY FOR MRS. MOFFAT LATIMER

Funeral services were conducted this (Friday) morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church for Mrs. Jennie Moffat Latimer of Charleston, mother of Miss Ann Latimer, Charleston correspondent for The Standard, who passed away at her home at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, September 1, after an illness lasting several weeks. The remains were taken to Troy, Tenn., for burial beside the bodies of her husband and parents.

Mrs. Latimer, the daughter of the late Capt. Thomas B. and Nancy Moffat, was born February 16, 1862 at Rives, Tenn., moving to Charleston in February, 1910. She was the widow of the late Rev. T. D. Latimer, D. D., minister of the Southern Presbyterian Church, who was the first installed pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Charleston. She was also a charter member of the Presbyterian church at Rives, Tenn.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Ann, a son, Moffat, and a grandson, Robert Moffat Latimer, all of Charleston and four brothers, William McGill Moffat of Chicago, T. Grier Moffat of Laurin, S. C.; J. Walter and Robert B. Moffat of Chester, S. C.

Fifty-seventh annual assembly of the Wayne County Baptist Association, will be held in Piedmont September 8 to 11. The Rev. O. S. Taylor of Williamsville, is moderator of the association. The Rev. John B. Sheets, Piedmont, will preach the introductory sermon.

Gov. Roosevelt's appeal last week for campaign funds brought 100 letters containing contributions from the South and the Midwest. The Friday and Saturday mail was all from the East and averaged $7 a letter, the total being a little over $4000. Today's letters came from States as far away as Arkansas and Nebraska.

One man was wounded seriously by police and his three companions, two of them women, were captured following a filling station holdup in Kansas City late Sunday night. The wounded man gave his name as Curtis Lindsey, 21 years old, of Protection, Kan. His companions who gave their names as James Grafe, Mildred Woolf and Hazel Green, all of Mexico, Mo.

Highlights of Roosevelt's Speech

Sea Girt, N. J., August 27.—Highlights of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign address here today follows:

The Republican national ticket this year—"High and Dry" at one end and at the other end increasing moisture.

The proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers.

Unquestionably our tax burden would not be so heavy nor the forms that it takes so objectionable if some reasonable proportion of the uncounted millions now paid to those whose business has been reared upon this stupendous blunder could be made available for the expenses of government.

When they would use words as a defense they must use more of them. Witness the Republican platform—long, indirect, ambiguous, insincere, false, compared with the concise sincerity of our own platform. And this is especially true of what they say about prohibition.

I suspect that those who wrote that (Republican prohibition) plank thought that it would sound dry to the drys and wet to the wets. But to the consternation of the high priests it sounded dry to the wets and wet to the drys.

The difficulty under which the President labors . . . is the difficulty that always attends sacrificing principles for votes, and attempting to conceal that fact by the use of pussy-cat words.

In New York State in 1930 there was a party which tried to ride two horses at the same time . . . unfortunately the horses insisted on going in different directions and the party fell to the ground between them. This year the Republican national leaders have tried the same circus stunt. The answer . . . will be the same.

BLODGETT SCHOOLS OPEN AUGUST 29

Blodgett high and grade schools opened Monday morning, August 29 with a slightly increased enrollment in both departments. Invitations were extended to all high school students conveniently located in surrounding territory to be served by a new school bus.

Faculty members include: J. E. Godwin, superintendent; Denver Clubb, principal of high school, Miss Caroline Stebbins, Mrs. Marshall Fulbright, Miss Marie Kinder, teachers; Marvin McLane, superintendent of grade school; Mrs. Marvin McLane, Mrs. Maurine Thomas and Miss Hazel Mullen, teachers.

Five prosperous peasants, including a woman, have been sentenced to death in the Ukraine for the theft of grain from collective farms. Harvesting of the Ukraine wheat crop has been lagging and 100,000 peasants have been recruited to bring up the work to last year's mark.

Jesse McCollum on Monday assumed his duties as Police Judge of Poplar Bluff, following his election last Friday when a special election was ordered to fill the vacancy brought about by the death of Judge H. E. Johnson. McCollum, a Democrat, won over W. H. Ke-shner, Republican, by a vote of 1050 to 604.

"Where did you get this wonderful billing system? It could extract money from a Scotchman!" "I simply compiled the letters my son sent me from college".

The best story of the week was printed in last Thursday's Post-Dispatch under the heading of "Clay Eaters". It seems that a group of about fifty men, women and boys, white and colored, have been discovered in the southwest section of St. Louis who are making a practice of eating red clay—not because they are hungry, but because they like the tang of the red earth. The habit was acquired, so the story goes, by the negroes when they were youths on a farm, and the contagion has spread to the white residents of the neighborhood in which the red clay bank is located. Some carry quantities of the clay home to munch at leisure. This may be an idea for feeding the destitute the coming winter.

During the past ten years, the Missouri State Highway Commission has spent $22,592,353 on highway construction in the 12 counties comprising division ten. This sum does not include money spent for maintenance, equipment or other necessary highway purposes.

The revenue for this vast road construction program has come from three sources, the sale of automobile tags, the gasoline tax, and bond issues. Not a dollar of State highway funds has come from property or personal tax. The automobile owners of Missouri have demanded better roads and have paid the entire bill through license fees and gas tax, including federal aid.

The State highway system was laid out and approved by the Missouri Legislature during the summer of 1921. It designated a north and south road and an east and west road or its equivalent (in mileage) in each county. The highways in each county are so

The following tabulations show the 1931 automobile registration for each county in the division; also the estimated license fees, the estimated gas tax, and the total amount that the State receives from each county for road use. By comparing this sum with the amount that has been spent in road construction in each county during the ten-year period, it can readily be seen that most individual counties have received far more money from the State than they are paying in automobile taxes.

The subject of the sixth lesson was "Teas." The Mothers Helpers 4-H Meal Planning Club finished their last requirement in this year's club work Tuesday night by giving a tea at the home of their leader, Miss Edith Hensley. Decorations were flowers and candles. Each member helped in making the sandwiches, punch, cakes and ice cream. All parents and friends of the members were present, making fifty in number. A discussion on the Achievement Day program which was held August 3, was held.

The 4-H Meal Planning Club has taught the members to select and prepare meals that will contribute to our own good health; to plan, prepare and serve attractive, economical and healthful meals, for the family when our mother is ill or away, and to assist her at other times. To entertain our friends and those of our family simply and graciously; to use to the best advantage and to appreciate home grown products; to do the work involved in meal planning with greater ease, speed and pleasure.

Those who attended the County 4-H Club round-up at New Madrid Saturday were, Edwyna Johnson, Edith Hensley and Mrs. Owen Johnson and children, George and Lois. Edwyna Johnson took part in the program by giving a reading and also received a blue ribbon for the angel food cake she baked. She also took second place in the County Health Contest.

COAST GUARD BOAT CRIPPLED IN COLLISION WITH 90-FOOT WHALE

New London, Conn., August 29. A 100-foot coast guard boat limped toward Boston for repairs today after it came out second best in an encounter with a 90-foot whale.

The Welborn C. Wood, a 1,000-ton craft sighted the whale Saturday night. It swam directly toward the boat and a head-on collision seemed imminent. Just before the boat struck it, the big fish flopped over its back and tried to dive under the craft.

The whale struck the vessel with a terrific impact, bending one propeller and damaging a turbine. No sign of the whale could be seen after the crash. It apparently was injured.

Hume-William Powell established shoe shop here.

The London Times' Algiers correspondent reports that, for the past week there has been unusual barometric depression in Southern Algeria, accompanied by constant dry and fairly dense mists, followed by violent sandstorms. Messages from places in the south of Oran Department state that many of these mists have been accompanied by falls of whitish, odorless and tasteless matter of a farinaceous kind, which covered tents and vegetation each morning. Old inhabitants remember this happening some 60 years ago, which they still refer to as "l'annee de la farine". The occurrence obviously recalls the manna of the Bible.

We folks who have jobs sufficient for bacon and beans don't know just how lucky we are. Good health tied up with a steady job puts a fellow on top of the world. To be poor means nothing. Everybody is poor at this time. Be thankful for your lot and resolve in your thankfulness to help some who have no job and who have no health. With us we have no complaint to make.

Sikeston is to have a circus. It will be here Tuesday, September 13, in all its fuss, pomp and glory, whatever that is. We are afraid our grandchildren will have returned to their Virginia home and we'll have no one to take unless it will be our youngest son, David. There ought to be a law passed requiring a circus to visit every town of 5000 population every two years at least, in order the children can see and smell the animals and grown folks can see the spangled beauties.

Delbert Fadden, 19 years old, says he ate bugs, berries and frogs for fifteen days "just for the fun of it". He had gone into the heavily forested Olympic peninsula, Washington State, without weapons, maps or compass on a photographic jaunt. He liked it so well that when his food ran out after fourteen days he lived on what he could find for fifteen days more. A grouse killed with a stone was his biggest game. His weight decreased 30 pounds.

YEAR

It is with genuine regret that we heard of the terrible accident that befell our fellow publisher, Alden Pinney, of the Benton Democrat. The crash of automobiles, the wreck of his car, and the hospital report of his back broken in two places, of him being unconscious most of the time, with chances of recovery extremely doubtful. All of this came as a shock. Those who knew Pinney can testify as to his Christian character, his loyalty to his town, his honesty and uprightness in all business dealings. To say all this about the publisher of a country weekly is to say all that can be said of mortal man. This is written Wednesday morning before final knowledge of his condition is received from the hospital at Hannibal. If he should live, which will be a miracle, it will be months before he can resume control of his publication and in the meantime The Standard force is at the command of Mrs. Pinney, or friends at Benton, who will look after the publication until the condition of the publisher improves.

Gov. Roosevelt's recent plea for Democratic campaign funds brought results in an unusual form Tuesday. A book, one of many similar in nature, was opened. Between every 12 pages was a new $1 bill. Fifty bills were found in the book, sent by H. C. Ney, Farmington, Conn.

There is a class of editors that seek to make their newspaper simply a money proposition. They direct the policies so that their owners will profit most. They forget that the newspaper is public property. As soon as the public discovers that their newspaper is run only for profit to the editors and that its policies fall in the same line, that paper will lose its weight and soon be forgotten. Though such journalists gain for a while, they will eventually emerge with a thin purse.—Jackson Cashbook.

Elsewhere in this column we mentioned there were many things a citizen of the city could learn, as well as we folks from the country. While putting on a lot of high class bluff by taking dinner in a roof garden, our waiter gave us the service of removing the bones from the fish we had ordered. But the sliced tomatoes which were included in the order had never been peeled. How such a little nicety could be overlooked in such a high class place, is beyond our imagination, unless city folks just don't know that tomatoes would seem real with the skins off. Looking around in this beautiful place we saw an elderly man, probably 65 years, dancing with a girl in her twenties. We doubted very much if there was any blood relationship between them. The old man seemed to be having a great time. At the table next to ours there was no hint of fear in the prohibition law. A bottle of liquor, with no kind of camouflage, was kept on the table. We saw plenty of flasks other places, but most of them were kept in a pocket or beneath the table when not in use.—Shelbina Democrat.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM THE PARIS APPEAL

Mr. Hoover is running for president on an anti-prohibition platform. His running mate, Mr. Curtis, is running as a dry and an enemy of repeal. All of which recalls the poetic description of another individual who sought to "ketch 'em a-coming and a-go'in'" as follows: "He wiggled in and he wiggled out and left the people still in doubt whether the snake that made the track was going north or coming back". Chairman Farley of the Democratic National Committee summed up the situation thus: "It looks as if the Republican party has a half-dry head and a dried-out tail".

"The nation cannot prosper unless the farmer does", says Governor Caulfield. But the nation has known this all the time. The trouble has been with the Coolidge-Hoover policies which made such a goat of the farming industry.

Or, it might help some if we farmers could be given the privilege of paying our mortgages in the same currency with which they were made. Then, instead of getting only $200 credit for 1000 bushels of corn, we would get credit for $2000, which would help a lot.

Too many men commit suicide in order that their families may cash in on life insurance policies and be saved from want. They labor under the delusion that their loved ones will be better off with the money than with them. Their families, however, would rather live in the direst poverty than to live in luxury when it comes that way. Their families would be happier, too, with them in the flesh than with a full pocketbook and an empty place in the household.

Things go by opposites with men and women. For instance, when a man clerk takes a vacation, he just sits around on a river bank and feels sorry for people who have to work. When a woman clerk takes a vacation she cleans house, paints the floors, cans vegetables, mends the clothes, polishes the stove and weeds the flowers. The man goes back to the store, all worn out. The woman goes back with a smile on her face and much conversation about how rested she feels.

Still, it is pretty hard to work up much sympathy for the woes of the farmer when his table is groaning beneath its load of good things to eat and his bins are bursting with grain. He is living better than any other class, even though he is not so long on money. The woes of the unemployed—the millions of city people who have no work, no money, no credit, no friends—are the ones that are the most acute. And unemployment relief would bring a large measure of farm relief. It would mean a bigger demand for beef, pork and mutton, for eggs, poultry and dairy products, for vegetables and grain, for everything else the farmer has for market. This bigger demand would bring better prices and better times for the farmer and every other class.

The doom of prohibition does not mean a return of the old-time saloon. Both Hoover and Roosevelt are pledged to a comeback for liquor but to continued outlawry for the old-time system of selling it. Instead of buying liquor by the drink, as it was sold in saloons, we will have state dispensaries in which it will be retailed in the original package. This means the customer must buy it by the bottle and take it elsewhere for use. Practically all countries that have tried prohibition have abandoned it in favor of this method, and it has worked much better than either prohibition or the old saloon. There were two evils which brought the saloon into disrepute. One was the treating evil. Instead of buying his drink and going about his business, the average man would buy a drink for companions or acquaintances, too. These parties usually insisted on returning the favor. Thus, instead of taking one drink, each of them would take a round of drinks and go home under the influence of liquor. The other evil was that saloons were too often used as headquarters for the criminal element and for crooked politicians.

Nobody wants the saloon to come back. Both parties are pledged to make its return impossible.

DOVE SEASON OPENS THIS WEEK THURSDAY

Missouri's dove shooting season opens September 1. While not many sportsmen in this State engage in dove shooting, an occasional gunner will be observed, usually near the larger cities where the foreign element is greater. Because of its erratic flight the dove offers a difficult target and requires good marksmanship to hit. Shooting of perched birds is frowned upon and the shooting of baited doves is prohibited by law.

NEGRO INJURED AS 8 CARS OF FREIGHT ARE WRECKED

Poplar Bluff, August 29.—Eight cars of a Missouri Pacific freight train were wrecked last night at Irondale, between here and St. Louis, with injury to one negro "hobo".

Division Superintendent J. W. Dougherty said today the wreck was due to a broken arch bar on a car containing a molasses shipment, and that the track had been cleared at 8 a. m.

ARKANSAN SUES SOUTH SEA ISLAND BRIDE FOR DIVORCE

Blytheville, Ark., August 25.—The refusal of a South Sea Island bride to leave her native home and come to the United States with her husband, F. H. Chandler, former United States Marine, forms the basis of an unusual divorce action filed here.

Chandler married Isabel O'Connor, of Spanish-Irish descent who was born and reared on the island of Guam. The couple lived in the peaceful atmosphere of the South Seas while Chandler was stationed there.

In 1930, Chandler charges in his divorce action, he returned to the United States, but his young wife refused to accompany him.

REAL FRUIT JUICE and VITAMINS...

In the drinks their nickels buy?

WHAT do your children get in the drinks their nickels buy? Do they get health and nourishment? Do they get real fruit juice and vitamins?

Now, you never need wonder. Now, you never need hesitate to let your children spend their nickels for a bottled drink.

One of America's great food experts has developed a delicious new drink made with fresh orange juice—the new Orange-Crush. It's made with the luscious juice of golden oranges picked when they're sweetest and ripest. Scientific tests recently made in a leading university prove that this new drink, prepared and handled by the exclusive Orange-Crush method, retains full strength the precious vitamin C of the fresh juice—the vitamin that helps build strong bones and sound teeth.

Here, at last, is a drink that you will be glad to let your children have. A drink that is zestful and refreshing, healthful and nourishing. Health authorities recommend the new Orange-Crush. Tell your children to ask for it by name. Better still, buy it by the case and keep some always on ice. You would enjoy a bottle right now.

Mrs. W. S. Smith and daughter, Ella Helen, Mrs. W. T. Malone and Miss Nannabelle Wilson were visitors in Charleston Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoeller were called to Cape Girardeau Wednesday on account of the death of the former's father, Joseph Hoeller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown of Charleston were guests Sunday evening of Mrs. W. C. Bahn in Cape Girardeau.

The election of the Sunday school teachers of the First Baptist church was postponed until next Wednesday evening, due to incomplete report from the departments.

The Charleston Baptist Association will convene next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 6 and 7, for a two-day session at the Miner Baptist church. State representatives will be present. A detailed program will be given in Tuesday's paper.

Last Tuesday, August 30, Miss Hazel Lumsden entertained at bridge with a surprise birthday party for her mother, Mrs. David Lumsden. The guests were: Mrs. Opal Heisler, Mrs. Freida Limbaugh, Mrs. Dolly Kirby, Mrs. Nina Daugherty, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Mary Graves and Mrs. Tessie Strain.

Mrs. W. C. Warren entertained with a party Monday afternoon, for her daughter, Juanita Boggan, who that day celebrated her 11th birthday. Games and contests were played by the guests, after which refreshments were served. The guests were: Carmen, Norma and Geraldine Davis, Betty Jo Gross, Alice and Bernice Houze, David Lumsden, Zada and Imogene Matthews Evelyn Porter, Mary Helen Croch of St. Louis, Ruth Buchholz and Geneva Propst.

The W. B. A. Westway Club held its meeting Wednesday evening with Mrs. Fred Kirby, having present 12 members and five visitors. The regular business of the Club was transacted and at this time it was decided to have a bingo party in the near future. A fruit shower was given yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Bill Shain, a sick member. The next meeting of the Club will be on Wednesday evening, September 14, with Mrs. Frank Dye. At this time the husbands of the members will be invited. After the business session, the social hour was spent in playing bingo, prizes being given as follows: First, Mrs. Elmos Taylor; second, Mrs. Charles Bethune and baby, Mrs. Frank Dye.

JUDGE RAPS SYSTEM OF HANDLING PRISONERS

Editor Sikeston Standard, Dear Editor: You asked in your issue of Tuesday morning, who the two mysterious strangers were, who were held in jail from the small hours in the morning until late in the evening without food. I would cheerfully answer your query if I could. I only know there were two men in jail. I do not know why they were locked in, or who locked them in. There are two keys to the jail. Mr. Kendall and Mr. Swanner have control of one, and Mr. Daniels, the other one. Mr. Swanner or Mr. Kendall know nothing of the why's and the wherefores of the incarceration of the prisoners, so they tell me. And there was no report of any kind made to me as Police Judge or as Justice of the Peace. Therefore, I am as ignorant as you.

I wish to remind you and the public, because I have been asked so often why so and so was not arrested for the same offense some other person was arrested for. I have no control of the actions of the Police and know nothing of their activities unless they bring the case to court, which they are supposed to do if an arrest has been made.

Many people believe that the Police Judge and Police Officer is one and the same. This is not true. They are both elective offices and separate and distinct from each other, and the Mayor only has jurisdiction above them, so in the future if there is any complaint of the Police, the Mayor is the proper person to go to. There is a so-called police committee appointed by the Mayor, who can only function as courtesy to the Mayor, but legally they have no jurisdiction in police matters.

JOS. W. MYERS, Police Judge.

KEMPER BRUTON TO SING SATURDAY, 4:30 P. M. OVER KFVS

Kemper Bruton will sing over radio station KFVS, Cape Girardeau, at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He will render a program of six vocal selections, and requests his many friends to listen in and report to him regarding reception, voice quality, etc. Miss Virginia Baker will accompany on the piano.

B. J. Murback, connected with Materials Department, Division 10 State Highway, is to be transferred to District No. 5 with headquarters at Jefferson City, effective Friday.

Mr. Murback has been working under H. A. Trowbridge, Material Engineer, for the past two years.

Carbon Monoxide Gas menace Remains Despite Campaigns; Proper Ventilation Is Urged

By Dr. Morris Finbein Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

With the coming of the first cold spell, newspapers will begin to contain news items of exposure to carbon monoxide gas. Indeed, there have appeared frequently throughout the summer records of men who died while under their automobiles with the engines running in closed garages.

The report of the Ohio State Department of Health just made public indicated 70 persons who took a chance with this dangerous gas in connection with domestic heating appliances and 82 in connection with automobile exhaust fumes during the year ending June 30, 1932.

The chief domestic appliances involved in the records of such accidents are heaters without flues, stoves in bedrooms and bathrooms, and occasionally kitchen gas range or a hot plate. Three deaths occurred among tramps living in a shanty, who used charcoal in a bucket for heating purposes.

It is pointed out that Benjamin Franklin was so impressed with the danger from this combination that he invented the stove or the furnace and gave patent rights free to the world in 1750.

A few people thought that they could get more heat out of a gas flame by putting something on top of it such as a plate or a bread toaster and instead released a sufficient amount of monoxide gas into the room to make them seriously sick or to cause death.

There were 82 cases of poisoning from motor exhaust fumes in which 43 were fatal. In one instance death occurred in a closed car which the driver was trying to drive through a river. Several deaths occurred during the winter among people who kept the motor running with the car standing still in order to keep the interior warm.

Several persons had narrow escapes in garages under houses which are practically always insufficiently ventilated. Year after year the warning is issued as to the danger of this menace to health and life, but year after year the number of deaths continues to reveal the breadth of the menace. Safety lies only in suitable ventilation and in proper apparatus for conducting poisonous gases away.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that 1,472,000 persons left farms for towns and cities in 1931, and that 1,679,000 moved farm ward.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM NEW MADRID

(By Miss Virginia Sharp)

Dr. M. C. Mill, wife and children returned Thursday from a trip to the Ozarks.

Miss Jennie Hampton of Caruthersville, is visiting friends and relatives in this city this week.

Miss Mary Margaret Phillips will return from Sikeston Thursday after spending a week with Miss Catherine Jane Mitchell.

Misses Eloise Mathewson Helen Phelan, Ruth Mangrum and Virginia Sharp motored to Gideon Sunday and visited relatives and friends.

Miss Mildred Lewis was given a birthday surprise party Tuesday evening at her home here. She received many beautiful gifts and a dainty luncheon was served.

Louis Mahar and daughters, Misses Neva and Martha, will leave via auto Thursday of next week for Youngstown, Ohio, where Misses Neva and Martha will remain with their mother, after several months' visit in New Madrid.

Constable Jess Wilkins and Deputy Sam Harris motored to Jefferson City Saturday night to take Jasper Whitledge, of Gideon, to the penitentiary. Jasper was in the County jail several months ago for stealing, but was paroled and after violating the law again, was given a term of two years.

Miss Mildred Lewis entertained the Ritz Club Wednesday of last week. After several hours at bridge, a box of handkerchiefs was presented to Mrs. B. H. Bierschwal for making high score and Miss Marguerite Dawson received a waste paper basket containing her low score. A dainty luncheon was served.

Miss Helen Sharp entertained the Whiz Club Friday afternoon of last week at her home on Scott Street. Bridge was played at several tables. A box of bath powders was given to Mrs. Howard Hampton for high score and Miss Laura Lee receiving the booty. A dainty salad, luncheon concluded the afternoon's pleasure.

SCOTT COUNTY CLUB WOMEN'S MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 16

The Neighborhood Women's Clubs of Scott County will hold a joint meeting at New Hamburg on Friday, September 16, at 2 p. m. Miss Flora Lee Carl of the College of Agriculture will, at this time, give a demonstration on "New Ways of Preparing Vegetables". This is the second of a series of four meetings to be held with the five clubs in Scott County. The last meeting was held on Canning, at which time seventy-six were in attendance, and each of the clubs stated that there will be more attending this time, than the last meeting.

DOES NOT FIND ONE LAW-REFORMED WET

New York, August 30.—The bus Diogenes, carrying the Prohibition Research Committee, reached here today, having covered 12,000 miles since June 1 while its five members combed thirty-six States and the District of Columbia in an effort "to find one drunkard reformed by the passage of the eighteenth amendment".

Paul Morris of the University of Wisconsin, director of the expedition, related some of the adventures. "We have yet to find a single law-reformed drunkard or a single family in the whole of the United States who has benefited by the passage of the eighteenth amendment", Morris said. "Of course, we found many alcoholic addicts who had given up drink for one reason or another. But never from statutory compulsion. Investigation always showed them to have reformed for some other reason."

"One of the most interesting interviews we had was in Washington. We called on Col. Woodcock, the prohibition administrator, but he was away and so we talked to his assistant, E. R. Sanford. During the conversation, Mr. Sanford said: "No law ever stopped anyone from drinking in this country or any other. And anybody, under prohibition, can get a drink who wants it". A few of the papers hit on that statement and it was afraid Mr. Sanford might lose his job, but he didn't."

40 Miles From Sikeston Is OUT OF BOUNDS

In business, as in golf, the big idea is to shoot the course in as few strokes as possible. Not how many, mind you, but how few. Shankd shots, stubbed shots, topped shots, hooks and fades, all this is the mark of the dub or, worse still, the man who doesn't care.

In advertising therefore, no more teeing up an appropriation and banging away blindly at it, not giving a hang whether it stays in or slices—over into SCATTERVILLE.

Dividends are born, not of sales, but of sales AT A PROFIT. Wasteful advextising, no less than wasteful production, will wipe out the margin of profit. It's good business now to concentrate both your money and effort where the population is thickest, where the buying power is greatest, where there are plenty of live, close-together prospects—in other words, in Sikeston and its territory where the cost of reaching prospects with advertising is low and where you get the quickest action on your money.

Wise advertisers are now fully in accord on one thing—namely, that the time has come to stop buying circulation that goes far beyond the frontiers of their market. As a result, they are manifesting a great, new interest in what percentage of concentrated, usable circulation newspapers deliver.

The Sikeston Standard has the most highly concentrated local circulation of any Sikeston newspaper. 90 pct. of it stays close to home, in the city and its adjoining market, where it does advertisers the most good. Nine hundred out of every ten hundred copies are delivered twice-a-week in this compact local market of 70,000 people with annual spendable incomes aggregating more than 10,500,000 dollars.

Keep your advertising appropriation in the fairway—invest it in The Standard where results are positive and the cost score low.

Gray Ridge Merchant Receives Warning From "The White Death" Who Demands $1000 Cash

Special to The Standard

"The White Death" frustrated efforts of Stoddard County authorities and members of the Division 10 State Highway Patrol force to capture him Thursday night.

L. C. Smith, merchant of Gray Ridge was aroused from sleep about 3:00 o'clock Thursday morning by a mysterious rapping on his front porch. Investigation disclosed the presence of a note tacked to the front door. Enclosed in an ordinary small blank envelope was a crudely written message signed by "The White Death", demanding the payment of $1000 in cash.

Siikeston, Mo.,
August 30, 1932

Mr. L. C. Smith.
Some time ago I tried to hold you up but you got away. But you won't this time. If you don't do as I say, I'll burn your store down. I could ambush you. Do this and you are free.

Thursday night, September 1, ride north in your car at 9 o'clock with $1000 in bills. When you see a white flag, stop! Put money by it, turn south and go home. Don't do anything funny for your car is covered with guns.

Remember Thursday night, go north by school house, when you see white flag put (money) $1000 by it.

If you don't do this, I'll burn your store to the ground.

Yours truly,
THE WHITE DEATH
P. S. Mr. Vally gave me $500

Additional $3,000,000 State Road Funds to be Released at Once for Farm-Market System

Exclusive in this newspaper.

A. R. Towse, Engineer of Division No. 10 today released the information that approximately $3,000,000 additional road funds are to be released in Missouri. This amount of money does not represent the release of new funds from the sale of bonds, according to Engineer Towse, but has been accumulated during the past few years due to the fact that bids on many contracts were lower than engineers' estimates.

Of this amount Division 10 will receive approximately $335,000 to $350,000 for the completion of the supplementary or "Farm-to-Market" system.

At the present time plans are being worked up for late fall, winter construction will probably not be better and spring work, but actual started until next spring.

This work entails the making of additional new surveys, drafting plans and making estimates. Then conferences will be called with the several county highway commissions in the Division for final OK on routes to be improved or constructed.

Work under contract, said Mr. Towse, would just about provide employment this winter, and the new construction now under advisement will probably be ready for release early next spring to fill the unemployment gap.

BLOOMFIELD 30-PIECE BAND TO GIVE HOUR PROGRAM HERE THURSDAY

According to an announcement received Wednesday from E. C. O'Neal, president of the Stoddard County Home Coming Festival, the thirty-piece Bloomfield band will visit Siikeston this week Thursday and will render a one-hour program in order to advertise the county get-together event scheduled to be held in Bloomfield, September 30, October 1.

NEIGHBOR DAY QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN SEPT. 9

Benton, September 1.—Favorable consideration is being given to the Scott County Neighbor Day Committee on prizes to be given for exhibits and events for October 6th. Siikeston in particular has been very liberal this year and almost 100% contribution has been made by those who have been solicited. On the basis of those even have more prizes this year, seen so far, Neighbor Day should than any other year in the past.

The selection of the Neighbor Day Queen will be made at the Court House at Benton, Friday night, September 9th at 7:30 p. m. Each of the high schools in the County is to be represented at this time. Invitations are being sent to the various high schools in the county.

This year the Queen will be crowned on a new stand and throne which replaces the original stand built years ago. The queen this year will receive a diamond ring, donated by the Lange Jewelry Store of Cape Girardeau.

TILGHMAN AND KIRBY PAY FINES OF $25 EACH

Fines of $25 each were assessed in police court against Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman and Raymond Kirby, charged jointly with being drunk and disorderly Saturday night at the Princess Pat Barbecue Stand. A complaint was signed by Miss Mary Larkin, proprietress of the place.

Kelly Orr, arrested Tuesday on complaint of Mrs. Maude Sitze, who alleged Orr had damaged a room while drunk and disorderly, was fined $30. The penalty is conditional, however, and will be reduced to $12 when and if Orr repairs the alleged damages.

DEXTER MAN AND CHILD GROUND TO DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF FREIGHT TRAIN

Special to The Standard

Dexter, Mo., September 2.—Bert E. Boone, 21 years old, a shirt factory workman of Dexter and Emory Richard Boone, age 7, son of Albert Boone a farmer living about eleven miles south of Dexter, were killed at 7:10 this morning when they were struck by a Missouri Pacific freight train while on their way to Van Buren to spend the week-end.

Bert, his brother, Albert, and son, Emory Richard Boone, had planned to spend the week-end at Van Buren. Just as they started out a Missouri Pacific freight train came along and Bert climbed up between two cars. Albert handed his son, Emory, to Bert, but somehow Bert lost his foothold and fell. The young child did not seem to be hurt by his fall down between the rails, but Bert fell and hit his head against the car and

Ben Sells Family Experiences Scare When Bullet Goes Through Wall

A crash of splintering wood and a dull thud was heard by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sells, living on William Street, during the barrage of 18 shots fired at the Buchanan Filling Station early Thursday morning in spoiling a robbery attempt. The experience was dismissed from mind.

After breakfast, however, Mr. Sells noticed a hole in the living room wall just over the radio. He dug out fragments of a lead bullet, and later discovered an opening in the east side of the house made by the .38 special charge intended for a fleeing negro youth.

Three negro boys, Ernest, Willie and Stanley Chatman were picked up by officers Gid Daniels and Toots Nall about 4 o'clock Thursday morning, after a trio of citizens headed by C. C. Buchanan had entertained one of the gang with a barrage of pistol and shot gun fire which culminated a series of night visits to the Buchanan Store and Filling Station on South Kingshighway.

For the past several months, Mr. Buchanan had missed merchandise from the place. About 60 days ago a watch, given to the proprietor by his father as an heirloom, was stolen. A few nights later a box of John Ruskin cigars disappeared, and thirty days ago the night prowler left with four sacks of flour and a sackful of miscellaneous goods.

Mr. Buchanan and a neighbor, Ray Taylor, then appointed themselves as a watchman committee of two, who kept their nightly vigil for a week straight without success. Mr. Buchanan finally got tired of the all-night sessions and rigged up a home-made burglar alarm, the secret of which remains in for possession.

It worked, however, in a very successful manner about 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Mr. Buchanan slipped out of bed with his .38 special and eased around to the filling station. An outside electric light switch was touched, and one of the negro boys was caught in the act of stuffing canned goods into a tow sack. Instead of complying with an order to "stick 'em up", the youth dashed out of the rear door, and the zero hour barrage opened with Goble Glass firing from the south exposure, Buchanan holding the north wing, and Ray Taylor blazing away from the northeast sector with an automatic shotgun.

Other than increasing the stride of the fugitive, the shots did not take effect.

Officers Daniels and Nall arrived on the scene by that time, however, and trailed the fleeing youth and his two companions who joined the flight at the intersection of a nearby lane and Highway 61. One of the trio confessed, according to Mr. Buchanan.

The three boys were released on bond furnished by Bill Baker.

As an anti-climax to the Buchanan affair, a negro who had robbed the Murray Klein hen roost, was challenged by a negro living in one of the Klein cabins, who had been aroused by the shooting. The rooster dropped his sack, and the chickens were recovered.

Sheriff Tom Scott and M. E. Montgomery, Prosecuting Attorney investigating the robbery attempt and subsequent capture of the three suspects, objected to their release on $200 bond furnished by Baker. Scott rearrested the trio and confined the three boys in the County Jail for further questioning.

Following their release on bond, the lads worked out a perfect alibi, and denied having any connection with the Buchanan robbery, although they had previously admitted their guilt.

A compound fracture of the back. The fourth vertebra was crushed, according to specialists in the hospital.

Editor Pinney Resting Well

According to a telephone message received from St. Elizabeth Hospital, Hannibal at 9:45 o'clock Thursday night, Alden Pinney, editor of the Scott County Democrat, Benton was resting well.

A specialist from St. Louis had been called in the case. His report was that everything that could be done for Mr. Pinney had been done, and that he looked for recovery.

Mrs. Effie Gayle, sister of the injured man, and Mrs. Pinney, both of whom were slightly injured, are expected home the first of next week. Mrs. Pinney will return to Hannibal however, to remain with her husband. The party, enroute from a visit in Iowa, figured in a wreck south of Hannibal near Ewing, Mo., late last Monday night. Mr. Pinney sustained

Justice Atwood Rules That Matter Is Clearly Up to Public Service Commission

The Associated Press will today carry a story from the Jefferson City Bureau stating that Siikeston lost its ouster suit against the Missouri Utilities Company in the Missouri Supreme Court in a decision handed down Friday.

In part, the dispatch from Jefferson City will read:

Jefferson City, September 2.—The City of Siikeston today lost in the Supreme Court its quo warranto suit to oust the Missouri Utilities Company which has continued to operate since expiration of its twenty-year franchise December 16, 1920. For some time the Utilities has been operating in competition with Siikeston's $150,000.00 municipally owned light and power plant. The Supreme Court in refusing to oust the Utilities held that it is for the State Public Service Commission to determine whether there still exists any necessity for continuance of the services supplied by the company. One of the City's contentions in the suit was that necessity for such service ceased when the City plant began to operate.

Judge Atwood Renders Decision

After a detailed review of the case, Chief Justice Frank E. Atwood, who wrote the opinion, said it is "clearly in accord with right and justice to hold, as we do, that in the circumstances the doctrines of laches and estoppel applied", protect the Utilities from being ousted.

"And realtor (the City) will not be heard to say that respondent (the Company) is without right or authority to engage in the electrical business in the City of Siikeston and have reasonable use of its streets, avenues and alleys in connection therewith", Judge Atwood said.

In his decision Judge Atwood said he was "bearing in mind that council for respondent's contend that at the expiration of the period furnished by a franchise from a city, the city may not order the Utilities off the streets or that at the expiration of the term such franchise rights of the Utilities do not cease, or that by continuing services alone the Utilities do not require any renewal rights".

Suit Filed July, 1931

The city contended vigorously through the proceedings that there existed no public necessity for continuance of the electrical services supplied by the Missouri Utilities, but Judge Atwood held that "it is a matter peculiarly within the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission". The quo warranto suit, with original proceeding in the Supreme Court, was filed in the name of the Attorney General Stratton Shartel after the Utilities had ignored the City's order of July 15, 1931, to vacate the city streets and discontinue furnishing electrical light and power service to residents of Siikeston.

The company contended that since November 24, 1925 it had and still was locally operating in Siikeston by virtue of authority granted it by a certificate of the Public Service Commission from November 16, 1922 to July 15, 1931. The Company claims it operated "without any objection whatever" from the city; that the city levied, assessed and collected taxes, and collected an annual license tax.

City Objects On Tax Grounds

On the other hand the city contended that competition by the Company with the Municipal plant might make it necessary to levy a direct tax upon all taxable property to pay off $150,000 bond issue and that maintenance of two distributions systems not only was unsightly but constituted dual hazards to workmen of both systems.

The $150,000 bond for the Municipal Plant was floated June 1, 1930.

Attorney Roger Bailey who has carried the proceedings through the highest Missouri tribunal read the newspaper story, but withheld comment regarding the next move of the city until he received a copy of the official decision from Jefferson City. It is known, however, that the city will continue the proceedings either before the Public Service Commission, or in the Supreme Court.

WILL BUILD NEW HOME IN SIKESTON

Work is to start this fall on a new residence on the lot east of the Charles Tanner home on Tanner Street. Mrs. Anna Winchester and Mrs. Robert Lillard are planning the dwelling, according to one informant.

DICK MITCHELL IMPROVES FOLLOWING OPERATION

The condition of Dick Mitchell, Siikeston man who underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, was reported to be satisfactory today. Mitchell has been associated with Barney Wagner here for the past several years.

Miss Mildred Waters Blake, 18, filed a complaint Wednesday, charging Jack Fitzgerald with disturbing the peace and using loud, boisterous and abusive language last Monday evening. Fitzgerald entered a plea of guilty and was fined $3.00 and costs.

Judge Frank W. Van Horne of Sikeston was given a place on the Scott County Republican slate. He will be the candidate for sheriff. Of course, we are not going to vote for him because we are a Democracy, but we are going to say nothing against him, because we know nothing against him. We have known him right onto twenty years and during that time, have had no reason to criticize him except that he voted the Republican ticket and he had a perfect right to do that. If he is elected, we believe he will make an honest and conscientious officer, but we don't think he'll be elected.

Every once in a while we give away advice. To be sure it is hardly ever heeded, but it worries us not. This time it is to owners of pistols or revolvers. If you can't shoot to hit, or to kill, when a burglar arrives and the chance of your life to do something for society, then practice up a bit or throw your pistol away and keep an assortment of quarter bricks by your bedside handy and feel confident of your ability to throw straighter than you can shoot. The bombardment of Wednesday night brought forth this advice.

A food specialist states that growing offspring should have a mid-afternoon repast. A doctor and a mid-afternoon repast is not exactly the picture that rises before the eye of a middle aged parent. The figure that he sees, with a tinge of regret that the past cannot be recalled, is the figure of a vanished child, calling: "Ma, kin I have some grub."

As an average, income tax receipts this year were 43 per cent below those of 1930. Alaska, with a drop of but 8 per cent made the best showing. Colorado was the hardest, reporting a falling off of 66 per cent. The District of Columbia, supposed to be beyond the reach of money troubles, was close to the average, the tax gleanings there being 41 per cent short. Indiana, New York, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin reflect the general state of reduced incomes, those States returning the average mark of 43 per cent.

Over in Italy, Prof. Pickard has risen in a balloon to a height of about fifty-five thousand feet, thereby breaking a world's record. The mere figures are impressive, but may be made more forcible by illustration and example. The tip of Mt. McKinley in Alaska is the highest point within the territory of the United States. If it were possible to set one Mt. McKinley on top of another, Prof. Pickard would have cleared the towering mass by a distance greater than the height of Pike's Peak.

Trans-Atlantic fliers seems to be under the displeasure of the "god of bounds" referred to by Mr. Emerson, the deity who tells men how far they can go in their endeavors. Once was enough for Col. Lindbergh, and Mr. Mollison, who has crossed recently from east to west, admits that the passage was "very difficult indeed". The god of bounds is likely to retain forever a portion of his power. No one can be a sculptor; yet Science has trimmed the prerogatives of our idols, and so far as trans-Atlantic flying is concerned, boundaries which none can pass today with certain safety, may sometime become as harmless as Mason and Dixon's line.

Lady Agnew, of Oxford, England, advertises in a New York paper that she has a house to rent in her home town at $17.50 per week. Anyone who thinks that the English are not up and doing, has another guess coming. Moreover, if American newspapers can be relied upon by foreigners to consummate a long range small scale transaction, they should be used more extensively as advertising media by people living nearer to the press room.

It is said that good citizens should have an interest in politics. If this means that the public is going to be let in on the split, the offer is generous and novel.

Older residents of this section who have long contended that the rising generation has not the self-reliance of their forefathers, can find good proof to back up their sent out from Minneapolis. It argument in a dispatch recently states that the Red Cross had 47,000 sacks of flour to distribute to the needy, but less than a third of the sacks had been given out for the reason that the housewives in most of the families to be supplied wouldn't know what to do with the flour if they had it.

Beginning Saturday, September 10, Mrs. Hoover will conduct a week-day Bible School from the hours of 9 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock every Saturday morning for children from six to fourteen years of age. This school will probably last until Christmas. All children between these ages are invited to attend.

CHARLESTON GOLFERS EXTEND INVITATION TO OPEN TOURNAMENT

Invitations are being extended by the Charleston Country Club to players in Southeast Missouri, the Lead Belt, Northeast Arkansas, West Kentucky and Southern Illinois to attend the first annual invitation open tournament on the Charleston links, September 16, 17 and 18.

There will be three classes, Championship, Class A and Class B. A total of thirty-six holes of golf will count in the championship score. Eighteen holes, to be played either on Friday, the 16th; Saturday, the 17th, or Sunday morning, September 18, will be used for classifying players in one of the three classes. The final eighteen holes are to be played Sunday afternoon.

In addition to giving suitable prizes in each of the three classes the Charleston Club also offers awards for:

Hole in one, lowest score on any nine holes, largest total number of "Birdies", and for "Eagles". An entry fee of $1 is being made. Since the date September 18 conflicts with a scheduled friendly tournament with Cairo and the Sikeston Club, the match has been definitely postponed, according to C. C. Scott, match maker for the locals.

Sikeston will entertain Paragould, Ark. golfers here September 11 in a return engagement, and will probably play Blytheville on the 25th.

Sikeston ladies will utilize the local links Sunday, September 11, for their first match play tournament here.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY FOR MRS. MOFFAT LATIMER

Funeral services were conducted this (Friday) morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church for Mrs. Jennie Moffat Latimer of Charleston, mother of Miss Ann Latimer, Charleston correspondent for The Standard, who passed away at her home at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, September 1, after an illness lasting several weeks. The remains were taken to Troy, Tenn., for burial beside the bodies of her husband and parents.

Mrs. Latimer, the daughter of the late Capt. Thomas B. and Nancy Moffat, was born February 15, 1862 at Rives, Tenn., moving to Charleston in February, 1910. She was the widow of the late Rev. T. D. Latimer, D. D., minister of the Southern Presbyterian Church, who was the first installed pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Charleston. She was also a charter member of the Presbyterian church at Rives, Tenn.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Ann, a son, Moffat, and a grandson, Robert Moffat Latimer, all of Charleston and four brothers, William McGill Moffat of Chicago, T. Grier Moffat of Laurens, S. C.; J. Walter and Robert B. Moffat of Chester, S. C.

Fifty-seventh annual assembly of the Wayne County Baptist Association will be held in Piedmont September 8 to 11. The Rev. O. S. Taylor of Williamsville, is moderator of the association. The Rev. John B. Sheets, Piedmont, will preach the introductory sermon.

Gov. Roosevelt's appeal last week for campaign funds brought 100 letters containing contributions from the South and the Midwest. The Friday and Saturday mail was all from the East and averaged $7 a letter, the total being a little over $4000. Today's letters came from States as far away as Arkansas and Nebraska.

One man was wounded seriously by police and his three companions, two of them women, were captured following a filling station holdup in Kansas City late Sunday night. The wounded man gave his name as Curtis Lindsey, 21 years old, of Protection, Kan. His companions who gave their names as James Grafe, Mildred Woolf and Hazel Green, all of Mexico, Mo.

Highlights of Roosevelt's Speech

Sea Girt, N. J., August 27.—Highlights of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign address here today follows:

The Republican national ticket this year—"High and Dry" at one end and at the other end increasing moisture.

The proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers.

Unquestionably our tax burden would not be so heavy nor the forms that it takes so objectionable if some reasonable proportion of the uncounted millions now paid to those whose business has been reared upon this stupendous blunder could be made available for the expenses of government.

When they would use words as a defense they must use more of them. Witness the Republican platform—long, indirect, ambiguous, insincere, false, compared with the concise sincerity of our own platform. And this is especially true of what they say about prohibition.

I suspect that those who wrote that (Republican prohibition) plank thought that it would sound dry to the drys and wet to the wets. But to the consternation of the high priests it sounded dry to the wets and wet to the drys.

The difficulty under which the President labors . . . is the difficulty that always attends sacrificing principles for votes, and attempting to conceal that fact by the use of pussy-cat words. In New York State in 1930 there was a party which tried to ride two horses at the same time . . . unfortunately the horses insisted upon going in different directions and the party fell to the ground between them. This year the Republican national leaders have tried the same circus stunt. The answer . . . will be the same.

BLODGETT SCHOOLS OPEN AUGUST 29

Blodgett high and grade schools opened Monday morning, August 29 with a slightly increased enrollment in both departments. Invitations were extended to all high school students conveniently located in surrounding territory to be served by a new school bus.

Faculty members include: J. E. Godwin, superintendent; Denver Clubb, principal of high school, Miss Caroline Stebbins, Mrs. Marshall Fulbright, Miss Marie Kinder, teachers; Marvin McLane, superintendent of grade school; Mrs. Marvin McLane, Mrs. Maurine Thomas and Miss Hazel Mullen, teachers.

Five prosperous peasants, including a woman, have been sentenced to death in the Ukraine for the theft of grain from collective farms. Harvesting of the Ukraine wheat crop has been lagging and 100,000 peasants have been recruited to bring up the work to last year's mark.

Jesse McCollum on Monday assumed his duties as Police Judge of Poplar Bluff, following his election last Friday when a special election was ordered to fill the vacancy brought about by the death of Judge H. E. Johnson. McCollum, a Democrat, won over W. H. Kershner, Republican, by a vote of 1030 to 604.

"Where did you get this wonderful billing system? It could extract money from a Scotchman!" "I simply compiled the letters my son sent me from college!"

The best story of the week was printed in last Thursday's Post-Dispatch under the heading of "Clay Eaters". It seems that a group of about fifty men, women and boys, white and colored, have been discovered in the southwest section of St. Louis who are making a practice of eating red clay—not because they are hungry, but because they like the tang of the red earth. The habit was acquired, so the story goes, by the negroes when they were youths on a farm, and the contagion has spread to the white residents of the neighborhood in which the red clay bank is located. Some carry quantities of the clay home to munch at leisure. This may be an idea for feeding the destitute the coming winter.

During the past ten years, the Missouri State Highway Commission has spent $22,592,353 on highway construction in the 12 counties comprising division ten. This sum does not include money spent for maintenance, equipment or other necessary highway purposes.

The revenue for this vast road construction program has come from three sources, the sale of automobile tags, the gasoline tax, and bond issues. Not a dollar of State highway funds has come from property or personal tax. The automobile owners of Missouri have demanded better roads and have paid the entire bill through license fees and gas tax, including federal aid.

The State highway system was laid out and approved by the Missouri Legislature during the summer of 1921. It designated a north and south road and an east and west road or its equivalent (in mileage) in each county. The highways in each county are so designated.

The following table gives a detailed report of expenditures scheduled for completion during the present year:

(Work Scheduled For Scott County 1932)
Route	Gravel	Total Miles	Total Cost
55AP	9.5	9.5	$145,025

The following tabulations show the 1931 automobile registration for each county in the division; also the estimated license fees, the estimated gas tax, and the total amount that the State receives from each county for road use. By comparing this sum with the amount that has been spent in road construction in each county during the ten-year period, it can readily be seen that most individual counties have received far more money from the State than they are paying in automobile taxes.

County	Registration	Lic. Fees	Gas Tax	Total
Cape Girardeau	7239	96,877	91,363	188,240
Dunklin	3405	45,508	42,975	88,483

Stoddard	3091	41,366	39,012	80,378

also shown. Citizens of this county will be interested in the road program for 1932. Highway officials point out, however, that the construction of the 1932 program will depend largely upon the co-operation of the local communities in obtaining right-of-way, and ability to sell State road bonds.

36.8 Miles in Scott
Scott County has a total of 36.8 miles of concrete highways, 35.7 miles of gravel and .6 miles of earth road or a total of 63.1 miles constructed at a total cost of $1,730,191.

Of the concrete mileage 29.2 is on Route 61 and 7.6 miles on highway 60. Highway 55 accounts for most of the gravel roads, 16.7 miles.

1932 Program $204,717

The road program in Scott County for 1932 calls for the expenditure of $204,717, according to the report received from the secretary of the Highway Commission.

4-H CLUB IS ACTIVE IN PHARRIS RIDGE COMMUNITY
By Miss Geneva Tetley, Pres. The Pharris Ridge Community 4-H Meal Planning Club held its first meeting at the home of the local leader, Miss Edith Hensley, May 18, with five members present. The following officers were elected: President, Geneva Tetley; Vice-President, Zelma Kem; Secretary-Treasurer, Vera Tetley; Cheer Leader, Edwyna Johnson and Club Reporter, Evelyn Tetley.

Following the distribution of Club circulars and record books, came a general review of club requirements, and a discussion of the main events for the year, and preparation of a calendar of events.

In that manner, individual and club goals were established. The next order of business was the making of plans for the next meeting. Lessons were assigned and height and weight health score cards issued and explained. The first lesson was a study of "Meal Planning for Health".

The Club selected the name "Mothers Helpers" at the meeting, and decided to hold regular sessions each Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock, at the homes of members. A committee appointed to select appropriate songs chose "America the Beautiful", "Smiles", "Hail, Hail, the Club's All Here", and "Vegetables". A social hour was taken up in playing games.

The "Mothers Helpers" Club held its second meeting at the home of the cheer leader Edwyna Johnson on the following Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock, with all members present. The Club officers were in charge. The President called the meeting to order with the members standing and repeating the national 3-H Club pledge. The roll was called, each member responded by giving a short report of "Meal Planning for Health". Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The meeting was then turned over to the local leader, followed by an hour of discussion in answering questions. The assignment for the third meeting was "Breakfast for a 4-H Club Girl", requiring each member to prepare a breakfast for a family of five in at least twenty-five minutes. After the second hour, the Club adjourned.

Requirements during the Club year were soup, once, vegetable cocktail once. Ten vegetables prepared in at least five different ways, twice each. Salads—one fruit, four vegetables and one meat, fish or egg salad. Five different desserts. Meats, one tough cut and one tender cut. The Club had its plan, prepare and serve alone, a breakfast, a vegetable dinner, a dinner with meat and to write menu plans for three days.

At the fourth meeting, Zelma Kem dropped the work, but we were requested to finish the Club as we would get full credit for work.

The subject of the sixth lesson was "Teas". The Mothers Helpers 4-H Meal Planning Club finished their last requirement in this year's club work Tuesday night by giving a tea at the home of their leader, Miss Edith Hensley. Decorations were flowers and candles. Each member helped in making the sandwiches, punch, cakes and ice cream. All parents and friends of the members were present, making fifty in number. A discussion on the Achievement Day program which was held August 3, was held.

The 4-H Meal Planning Club has taught the members to select and prepare meals that will contribute to our own good health; to plan, prepare and serve attractive, economical and healthful meals for the family when our mother is ill or away, and to assist her at other times. To entertain our friends and those of our family simply and graciously; to use to the best advantage and to appreciate home grown products; to do the work involved in meal planning with greater ease, speed and pleasure.

Those who attended the County 4-H Club round-up at New Madrid Saturday were, Edwyna Johnson, Edith Hensley, and Mrs. Owen Johnson and children, George and Lois. Edwyna Johnson took part in the program by giving a reading and also received a blue ribbon for the angel food cake she baked. She also took second place in the County Health Contest.

COAST GUARD BOAT CRIPPED IN COLLISION WITH 90-FOOT WHALE

New London, Conn., August 29. A 100-foot coast guard boat limped toward Boston for repairs today after it came out second best in an encounter with a 90-foot whale.

The Welborn C. Wood, a 1,000-ton craft sighted the whale Saturday night. It swam directly toward the boat and a head-on collision seemed imminent. Just before the boat struck it, the big fish flopped over on its back and tried to dive under the craft.

The whale struck the vessel with a terrific impact, bending one propeller and damaging a turbine. No sign of the whale could be seen after the crash. It apparently was injured.

Hume—William Powell established shoe shop here.

The London Times' Algiers correspondent reports that for the past week there has been unusual barometric depression in Southern Algeria, accompanied by constant dry and fairly dense mists, followed by violent sandstorms. Messages from places in the south of Oran Department state that many of these mists have been accompanied by falls of whitish, odorless and tasteless matter of a farinaceous kind, which covered tents and vegetation each morning. Old inhabitants remember this happening some 60 years ago, which they still refer to as "l'annee de la farine". The occurrence obviously recalls the manna of the Bible.

TRUSTEE'S SALE NOTICE

WHEREAS, William L. Carroll and wife, Susan Mary Carroll, by their deed of trust dated March 27th, 1922, filed in the office of the Recorder of Deeds of Scott County, Missouri, and recorded in Book No. 44 at Pages Nos. 185 and 186, conveyed to Commerce Trust Company of Kansas City, Missouri, Trustee, for the purpose of securing the indebtedness therein described, the following described property, situated in Scott County, Missouri, to-wit:

News of the Town

By Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone spent Tuesday in St. Louis.

Mrs. Loomis Mayfield will be hostess to the Friday Bridge Club this week.

C. E. Bratton, who has been confined to his home since last Friday on account of sickness, was thought to be better yesterday.

James M. Klein, Mrs. Murray Klein and Miss Camille Klein were in St. Genevieve, yesterday, where the former transacted business.

Miss Almetta Sidwell of Cape Girardeau and Mrs. Emma Ogilvie Clack of Charleston visited Mr. and Mrs. Chris Francis, Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. W. W. Lankford and daughters, Miss Freda and Mary Ann, Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Miss Helen Johnson and Mrs. W. C. Walker of Memphis, Tenn., were Cape Girardeau visitors yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Schwab, who is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwab, will return to Cape Girardeau the last of the week to finish her business course at the Latimer Business College.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lambert of St. Louis and Misses Bessie and Jessie Lambert of East St. Louis, Ill., spent last Saturday and Sunday here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moore and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone.

Miss Hazel Lumsden will leave Saturday, September 3, for Central College, Fayette. She will motor to Fayette with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lumsden. The latter two plan to spend the early part of the week in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Watson of Charleston and Mrs. C. W. Smoot of Miner, who for the past three weeks have been visiting their brother, John S. Watson, of Blue Ridge, Alta, Canada, are expected home Saturday. This was the first time in 16 years that the brothers and sisters had been together and it is the wish of the Southeast Missourians to have their brother return with them.

Mrs. Roy Wagner and children spent last week-end in Lutesville visiting the former's sisters, Mrs. Charles Rogers and Mrs. Harry Hawkins. They returned Monday night, accompanied by Mrs. Rogers and son, Charles Robert, who will visit here until Saturday. From Sikeston, Mrs. Rogers and son will go to Bernie for a visit with Mrs. Maud Higginbotham before returning to their home at Lutesville.

Tuesday the annual W. M. U. officers meeting of the Charleston Ass'n. was held at Morley. The meeting convened at 10 o'clock with a basket dinner served at noon. In the afternoon a business session was held with election of officers for next year. All the old officers were re-elected excepting the personal service chairman, Mrs. Sikes of Oran, being elected for the ensuing year. The Sikeston W. M. U. officers attending were: Mrs. Jas. McCabe, Mrs. Miley Linbaugh, Mrs. Dave Reese, Mrs. C. M. Taylor, Miss Millie Jones and Mrs. Dora Suvers and Mrs. Jessie Hamby also were present, the latter being the Young People's leader of the Association.

Canalou 4-H Club Achievement Program Held August 16th

The Canalou 4-H Sow and Litter Club had their Club Achievement program at the School Building at Canalou Tuesday, August 16. Eleven members had completed their projects and had their sows and litters on the grounds for exhibit. These were Beulah Newman, Marguerite Haywood, Gracie Newman, Herman Haywood, Wilson Moore, Bertis Moore, Nelson Gruen, Rees Spencer, Heron Sims and Don Alexander, and Bertie Sims.

These pigs were secured from the Cape Girardeau Teachers' College last summer on the return pig plan—that is, the club member secures a gilt this summer and agrees to pay for it with two pigs from the gilts first litter next summer.

These original gilts were valued at $5 each when the club boys received them. The records show that they consumed an average of $12.35 worth of feed. These gilts farrowed on an average of 5.4 pigs of which an average of 3.4 pigs were raised. The average estimated value of these gilts and

TREES HAVE "SYSTEM" FOR SCATTERING SEED

Trees are far from haphazard in reseeding forest land, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. As a rule seeds liberated from a tree at the same instant are scattered in a straight line to leeward of the trees.

If all seeds produced by a tree were to be released at one time this would result in an undesirable concentration of seeds in a limited area and a total lack of seeds in other areas. Nature has guarded against any such wasteful process. A pine cone, for example, opens one scale at a time. As the scale opens the two seeds which were borne under it drop out.

Ordinarily several days elapse between the escape of the first and last seeds from any one cone. Furthermore the cones on different

Mrs. David Lumsden spent the past week-end in St. Louis.

About 25 couples enjoyed a chicken barbecue at the Washout, last night.

Mrs. Glenn Keller of Cape Girardeau spent Tuesday night here with her sister, Mrs. John Husher and family.

The Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting next Thursday evening, September 8.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stoner and son, Reece, of Springfield spent from last Friday until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis.

Mrs. W. S. Smith and daughter, Ella Helen, Mrs. W. T. Malone and Miss Nannabelle Wilson were visitors in Charleston Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoeller were called to Cape Girardeau Wednesday on account of the death of the former's father, Joseph Hoeller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown of Charleston were guests Sunday evening of Mrs. W. C. Bahn in Cape Girardeau.

The election of the Sunday school teachers of the First Baptist church was postponed until next Wednesday evening, due to incomplete report from the departments.

The Charleston Baptist Association will convene next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 6 and 7, for a two-day session at the Miner Baptist church. State representatives will be present. A detailed program will be given in Tuesday's paper.

Last Tuesday, August 30, Miss Hazel Lumsden entertained at bridge with a surprise birthday party for her mother, Mrs. David Lumsden. The guests were: Mrs. Opal Heisler, Mrs. Freida Limbaugh, Mrs. Dolly Kirby, Mrs. Nina Daugherty, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Mary Graves and Mrs. Tessie Strain.

Mrs. W. C. Warren entertained with a party Monday afternoon, for her daughter, Juanita Boggan, who that day celebrated her 11th birthday. Games and contests were played by the guests, after which refreshments were served. The guests were: Carmen, Norma and Geraldine Davis, Betty Jo Gross, Alice and Berniece Houze, David Lumsden, Zada and Imogene; Matthews Evelyn Porter, Mary Helen Croch of St. Louis, Ruth Buchholz and Geneva Prost.

The W. B. A. Westway Club held its meeting Wednesday evening with Mrs. Fred Kirby, having present 12 members and five visitors. The regular business of the Club was transacted and at this time it was decided to have a bingo party in the near future. A fruit shower was given yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Bill Shain, a sick member. The next meeting of the Club will be on Wednesday evening, September 14, with Mrs. Frank Dye. At this time the husbands of the members will be invited. After the business session, the social hour was spent in playing bingo, prizes being given as follows: First, Mrs. Elmos Taylor; second, Mrs. Charles Bethune; and booby, Mrs. Frank Dye.

Carbon Monoxide Gas menace Remains Despite Campaigns; Proper Ventilation Is Urged

By Dr. Morris Finbein
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

With the coming of the first cold spell, newspapers will begin to contain new accounts of exposure to carbon monoxide gas. Indeed, there have appeared frequently throughout the summer records of men who died while under their automobiles with the engines running in closed garages.

The report of the Ohio State Department of Health just made public indicated 70 persons who took a chance with this dangerous gas in connection with domestic heating appliances and 82 in connection with automobile exhaust fumes during the year ending June 30, 1932.

The chief domestic appliances involved in the records of such accidents are heaters without flues used in bedrooms and bathrooms, and occasionally a kitchen gas range or a hot plate. Three deaths occurred among tramps living in a shanty, who used charcoal in a bucket for heating purposes.

It is pointed out that Benjamin Franklin was so impressed with the danger from this combination that he invented the stove or the furnace and gave patent rights free to the world in 1750.

A few people thought that they could get more heat out of a gas flame by putting something on top of it such as a plate or a bread toaster and instead released a sufficient amount of monoxide gas into the room to make them seriously sick or to cause death.

There were 82 cases of poisoning from motor exhaust fumes in which 43 were fatal.

JUDGE RAPS SYSTEM OF HANDLING PRISONERS

Editor Sikeston Standard,
Dear Editor:

You asked in your issue of Tuesday morning, who the two mysterious strangers were, who were held in jail from the small hours in the morning until late in the evening without food. I would cheerfully answer your query if I could. I only know there were two men in jail. I do not know why they were locked in, or who locked them in. There are two keys to the jail, Mr. Kendall and Mr. Swanner has control of one, and Mr. Daniels, the other one. Mr. Swanner or Mr. Kendall know nothing of the why's and the wherefores of the incarceration of the prisoners, so they tell me. And there was no report of any kind made to me as Police Judge or as Justice of the Peace. Therefore, I am as ignorant as you.

I wish to remind you and the public, because I have been asked so often why so and so was not arrested for such an offense some other person was arrested for. I have no control of the actions of the Police and know nothing of their activities unless they bring the case to court, which they are supposed to do if an arrest has been made.

Many people believe that the Police Judge and Police Officer is one and the same. This is not true. They are both elective offices and separate and distinct from each other, and the Mayor only has jurisdiction above them, so in the future if there is any complaint of the Police, the Mayor is the proper person to go to. There is a so-called police committee appointed by the Mayor, who can only function as court say to the Mayor, but legally they have no jurisdiction in police matters.

JOS. W. MYERS, Police Judge.

There were 82 cases of poisoning from motor exhaust fumes in which 43 were fatal.

In one instance death occurred in a closed car which the driver was trying to drive through a river. Several deaths occurred during the winter among people who kept the motor running with the car standing still in order to keep the interior warm.

Several persons had narrow escapes in garages under houses which are practically always insufficiently ventilated.

Year after year the warning is issued as to the danger of this menace to health and life, but year after year the number of deaths continues to reveal the breadth of the menace. Safety lies only in suitable ventilation and in proper apparatus for conducting poisonous gases away.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM NEW MADRID

(By Miss Virginia Sharp)

Dr. M. C. Mill, wife and children returned Thursday from a trip to the Ozarks.

Miss Jennie Hampton of Caruthersville, is visiting friends and relatives in this city this week.

Miss Mary Margaret Phillips will return from Sikeston Thursday after spending a week with Miss Catherine Jane Mitchell.

Misses Eloise Mathewson Helen Phelan, Ruth Mangrum and Virginia Sharp motored to Gideon Sunday and visited relatives and friends.

Miss Mildred Lewis was given a birthday surprise party Tuesday evening at her home here. She received many beautiful gifts and a dainty luncheon was served.

Louis Mahar and daughters, Misses Neva and Martha, will leave via auto Thursday of next week for Youngstown, Ohio, where Misses Neva and Martha will remain with their mother, after several months' visit in New Madrid.

Constable Jess Wilkins and Deputy Sam Harris motored to Jefferson City Saturday night to take Jasper Whitledge, of Gideon, to the penitentiary. Jasper was in the County jail several months ago for stealing, but was paroled and after violating the law again, was given a term of two years.

Miss Mildred Lewis entertained the Ritz Club Wednesday of last week. After several hours at bridge, a box of handkerchiefs was presented to Mrs. B. H. Bierschwal for making high score and Miss Marguerite Dawson received a waste paper basket consoling her low score. A dainty luncheon was served.

Miss Helen Sharp entertained the Whiz Club Friday afternoon of last week at her home on Scott Street. Bridge was played at several tables. A box of bath powders was given to Mrs. Howard Hampton for high score and Miss Laura Lee receiving the booby. A dainty salad luncheon concluded the afternoon's pleasure.

SCOTT COUNTY CLUB WOMEN'S MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 16

The Neighborhood Women's Clubs of Scott County will hold a joint meeting at New Hamburg on Friday, September 16, at 2 p. m. Miss Flora Lee Carl of the College of Agriculture will, at this time, give a demonstration on "New Ways of Preparing Vegetables". This is the second of a series of four meetings to be held with the five clubs in Scott County. The last meeting was held on Canning, at which time seventy-six were in attendance, and each of the clubs stated that there will be more attending this time, than the last meeting.

DOES NOT FIND ONE LAW-REFORMED WET

New York, August 30.—The bus Diogenes, carrying the Prohibition Research Committee, reached here today, having covered 12,000 miles since June 1 while its five members combed thirty-six States and the District of Columbia in an effort "to find one drunkard reformed by the passage of the eighteenth amendment".

Paul Morris of the University of Wisconsin, director of the expedition, related some of the adventures. "We have yet to find a single law-reformed drunkard or a single family in the whole of the United States who has benefited by the passage of the eighteenth amendment," Morris said. "Of course, we found many alcoholic addicts who had given up drink for one reason or another. But never from statutory compulsion. Investigation always showed them to have reformed for some other reason."

"One of the most interesting interviews we had was in Washington. We called on Col. Woodcock, the prohibition administrator, but he was away and so we talked to his assistant, E. R. Sanford. During the conversation, Mr. Sanford said: "No law ever stopped anyone from drinking in this country or any other. And anybody, under prohibition, can get a drink who

By ART L. WALLHAUSEN

We have heard of Frank Merriwell and his combination zig zag rise and drop ball, of Christy Mathewson, the big train with his famous fadaway, of Herb Pruett, the Dexter flash, with his roundhouse puzzler, of the eccentric Rube Waddell, with his bewildering curves and blinding speed, of Tod Sloan of rough seam sail-or fame, of Smokey Joe Wood and his fire ball,

40 Miles From Sikeston Is OUT OF BOUNDS

In business, as in golf, the big idea is to shoot the course in as few strokes as possible. Not how many, mind you, but how few. Shanked shots, stubbed shots, topped shots, hooks and fades, all this is the mark of the dub or, worse still, the man who doesn't care.

In advertising therefore, no more teeing up an appropriation and banging away blindly at it, not giving a hang whether it stays in or slices—over into SCATTERVILLE.

Dividends are born, not of sales, but of sales AT A PROFIT. Wasteful advertixising, no less than wasteful production, will wipe out the margin of profit. It's good business now to concentrate both your money and effort where the population is thickest, where the buying power is greatest, where there are plenty of live, close-together prospects—in other words, in Sikeston and its territory where the cost of reaching prospects with advertising is low and where you get the quickest action on your money.

Carries Over 70 Per Cent of the Advertising Appealing to the 70,000 People Living in the Sikeston Territory

Wise advertisers are now fully in accord on one thing—namely, that the time has come to stop buying circulation that goes far beyond the frontiers of their market. As a result, they are manifesting a great, new interest in what percentage of concentrated, usable circulation newspapers deliver.

The Sikeston Standard has the most highly concentrated local circulation of any Sikeston newspaper. 90 pct. of it stays close to home, in the city and and its adjoining market, where it does advertisers the most good. Nine hundred out of every ten hundred copies are delivered twice-a-week in this compact local market of 70,000 people with annual spendable incomes aggregating more than 10,500,000 dollars.

Keep your advertising appropriation in the fairway—invest it in The Standard where results are positive and the cost score low.

Judge Frank W. Van Horne of Sikeston was given a place on the Scott County Republican slate. He will be the candidate for sheriff. Of course, we are not going to vote for him because we are a Democrat, but we are going to say nothing against him, because we know nothing against him. We have known him high onto twenty years and during that time, have had no reason to criticize him except that he voted the Republican ticket and he had a perfect right to do that. If he is elected, we believe he will make an honest and conscientious officer, but we don't think he'll be elected.

Every once in a while we give away advice. To be sure it is hardly ever heeded, but it worries us. This time it is to owners of pistols or revolvers. If you can't shoot to hit, or to kill, when a burglar arrives and the chance of your life to do something for society, then practice up a bit or throw your pistol away and keep an assortment of quarter bricks by your bedside handy and feel confident of your ability to throw straighter than you can shoot. The bombardment of Wednesday night brought forth this advice.

A food specialist states that growing offspring should have a mid-afternoon repast. A doctor and a mid-afternoon repast is not exactly the picture that rises before the eye of a middle aged parent. The figure that he sees, with a tinge of regret that the past cannot be recalled, is the figure of a vanished child, calling: "Ma, kin I have some grub?"

As an average, income tax receipts this year were 43 per cent below those of 1930. Alaska, with a drop of but 8 per cent made the best showing. Colorado was hit hardest, reporting a falling off of 66 per cent. The District of Columbia, supposed to be beyond the reach of money troubles, was close to the average, the tax gleanings there being 41 per cent short. Indiana, New York, Rhode Island, West Virginia and Wisconsin reflect the general state of reduced incomes, those States returning the average mark of 43 per cent.

Over in Italy, Prof. Pickard has risen in a balloon to a height of about fifty-five thousand feet, thereby breaking a world's record. The mere figures are impressive, but may be made more forcible by illustration and example. The tip of Mt. McKinley in Alaska is the highest point within the territory of the United States. If it were possible to set one Mt. McKinley on top of another, Prof. Pickard would have cleared the towering mass by a distance greater than the height of Pike's Peak.

Trans-Atlantic fliers seems to be under the displeasure of the "god of bounds" referred to by Mr. Emerson, the deity who tells men how far they can go in their endeavors. Once was enough for Col. Lindbergh, and Mr. Mollison, who has crossed recently from east to west, admits that the passage was "very difficult indeed". The god of bounds is likely to retain forever a portion of his power. No one can be a sculptor; yet Science has trimmed the prerogatives of other gods, and so far as trans-Atlantic flying is concerned, boundaries which none can pass today with certain safety, may sometime become as harmless as Mason and Dixon's line.

Lady Agnew, of Oxford, England, advertises in a New York paper that she has a house to rent in her home town at $17.50 per week. Anyone who thinks that the English are not up and doing, has another guess coming. Moreover, if American newspapers can be relied upon by foreigners to consummate a long range small scale transaction, they should be used more extensively as advertising media by people living nearer to the press room.

It is said that good citizens should have an interest in politics. If this means that the public is going to be let in on the split, the offer is generous and novel.

Older residents of this section who have long contended that the rising generation has not the self-reliance of their forefathers, can find good proof to back up their sentiment from Minneapolis. It argues in a dispatch recently states that the Red Cross had 47,000 sacks of flour to distribute to the needy, but less than a third of the sacks had been given out for the reason that the housewives in most of the families to be supplied wouldn't know what to do with the flour if they had it.

Beginning Saturday, September 10, Mrs. Hoover will conduct a week-day Bible School from the hours of 9 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock every Saturday morning for children from six to fourteen years of age. This school will probably last until Christmas. All children between these ages are invited to attend.

CHARLESTON GOLFERS EXTEND INVITATION TO OPEN TOURNAMENT

Invitations are being extended by the Charleston Country Club to players in Southeast Missouri, the Lead Belt, Northeast Arkansas, West Kentucky and Southern Illinois to attend the first annual invitation open tournament on the Charleston links, September 16, 17 and 18.

There will be three classes, Championship, Class A and Class B. A total of thirty-six holes of golf will count in the championship score. Eighteen holes, to be played either on Friday, the 16th; Saturday, the 17th, or Sunday morning, September 18, will be used for classifying players in one of the three classes. The final eighteen holes are to be played Sunday afternoon.

In addition to giving suitable prizes in each of the three classes the Charleston Club also offers awards for:

Hole in one, lowest score on any nine holes, largest total number of "Birdies", and for "Eagles". An entry fee of $1 is being made. Since the date September 18 conflicts with a scheduled friendly tournament with Cairo and the Sikeston Club, the match has been definitely postponed, according to C. C. Scott, match maker for the locals.

Sikeston will entertain Paragould, Ark., golfers here September 11 in a return engagement, and will probably play Blytheville on the 25th.

Sikeston ladies will utilize the local links Sunday, September 11, for their first match play tournament here.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY

FOR MRS. MOFFAT LATIMER

Funeral services were conducted this (Friday) morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church for Mrs. Jennie Moffat Latimer of Charleston, mother of Miss Ann Latimer, Charleston correspondent for The Standard, who passed away at her home at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, September 1, after an illness lasting several weeks. The remains were taken to Troy, Tenn., for burial beside the bodies of her husband and parents.

Mrs. Latimer, the daughter of the late Capt. Thomas B. and Nancy Moffat, was born February 13, 1862 at Rives, Tenn., moving to Charleston in February, 1910. She was the widow of the late Rev. T. D. Latimer, D. D., minister of the Southern Presbyterian Church, who was the first installed pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Charleston. She was also a charter member of the Presbyterian church at Rives, Tenn.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Ann, a son, Moffat, and a grandson, Robert Moffat Latimer, all of Charleston and four brothers, William McGill Moffat of Chicago, T. Grier Moffat of Launce, S. C.; J. Walter and Robert B. Moffat of Chester, S. C.

Fifty-seventh annual assembly of the Wayne County Baptist Association, will be held in Piedmont September 8 to 11. The Rev. O. S. Taylor of Williamsville, is moderator of the association. The Rev. John B. Sheets, Piedmont, will preach the introductory sermon.

Gov. Roosevelt's appeal last week for campaign funds brought 100 letters containing contributions from the South and the Midwest. The Friday and Saturday mail was all from the East and averaged $7 a letter, the total being a little over $4000. Today's letters came from States as far away as Arkansas and Nebraska.

One man was wounded seriously by police and his three companions, two of them women, were captured following a filling station holdup in Kansas City late Sunday night. The wounded man gave his name as Curtis Lindsey, 21 years old, of Protection, Kan. His companions who gave their names as James Grafe, Mildred Woolfell and Hazel Green, all of Mexico, Mo.

Highlights of Roosevelt's Speech

Sea Girt, N. J., August 27.—Highlights of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign address here today follows:

The Republican national ticket this year—"High and Dry" at one end and at the other end increasing moisture.

The proper means of regulation is through the States, with control by the Federal Government limited to that which is necessary to protect the States in the exercise of their legitimate powers.

Unquestionably our tax burden would not be so heavy nor the forms that it takes so objectionable if some reasonable proportion of the uncounted millions now paid to those whose business has been reared upon this stupendous blunder could be made available for the expenses of government.

When they would use words as a defense they must use more of them. Witness the Republican platform—long, indirect, ambiguous, insincere, false, compared with the concise sincerity of our own platform. And this is especially true of what they say about prohibition.

I suspect that those who wrote that (Republican prohibition) plank thought that it would sound dry to the drys and wet to the wets. But to the consternation of the high priests it sounded dry to the wets and wet to the drys.

The difficulty under which the President labors . . . is the difficulty that always attends sacrificing principles for votes, and attempting to conceal that fact by the use of pussy-cat words. In New York State in 1930 there was a party which tried to ride two horses at the same time . . . unfortunately the horses insisted upon going in different directions and the party fell to the ground between them. This year the Republican national leaders have tried the same circus stunt. The answer . . . will be the same.

BLODGETT SCHOOLS OPEN AUGUST 29

Blodgett high and grade schools opened Monday morning, August 29 with a slightly increased enrollment in both departments. Invitations were extended to all high school students conveniently located in surrounding territory to be served by a new school bus.

Faculty members include: J. E. Godwin, superintendent; Denver Clubb, principal of high school; Miss Caroline Stebbins, Mrs. Marshall Fulbright, Miss Marie Kinder, teachers; Marvin McLane, superintendent of grade school; Mrs. Marvin McLane, Mrs. Maurine Thomas and Miss Hazel Mullen, teachers.

Five prosperous peasants, including a woman, have been sentenced to death in the Ukraine for the theft of grain from collective farms. Harvesting of the Ukraine wheat crop has been lagging and 100,000 peasants have been recruited to bring up the work to last year's mark.

Jesse McCollum on Monday assumed his duties as Police Judge of Poplar Bluff, following his election last Friday when a special election was ordered to fill the vacancy brought about by the death of Judge H. E. Johnson. McCollum, a Democrat, won over W. H. Keshner, Republican, by a vote of 1030 to 604.

"Where did you get this wonderful billing system? It could extract money from a Scotchman". "I simply compiled the letters my son sent me from college".

The best story of the week was printed in last Thursday's Post-Dispatch under the heading of "Clay Eaters". It seems that a group of about fifty men, women and boys, white and colored, have been discovered in the southwest section of St. Louis who are making a practice of eating red clay—not because they are hungry, but because they like the tang of the red earth. The habit was acquired, so the story goes, by the negroes when they were youths on a farm, and the contagion has spread to the white residents of the neighborhood in which the red clay bank is located. Some carry quantities of the clay home to munch at leisure. This may be an idea for feeding the destitute the coming winter.

During the past ten years, the Missouri State Highway Commission has spent $22,592,353 on highway construction in the 12 counties comprising division ten. This sum does not include money spent for maintenance, equipment or other necessary highway purposes.

The revenue for this vast road construction program has come from three sources, the sale of automobile tags, the gasoline tax, and bond issues. Not a dollar of State highway funds has come from property or personal tax. The automobile owners of Missouri have demanded better roads and have paid the entire bill through license fees and gas tax, including federal aid.

The State highway system was laid out and approved by the Missouri Legislature during the summer of 1921. It designated a north and south road and an east and west road or its equivalent (in mileage) in each county. The highways in each county are so

The following table gives a detailed report of expenditures scheduled for completion during the present year:

The following tabulations show the 1931 automobile registration for each county in the division; also the estimated license fees, the estimated gas tax, and the total amount that the State receives from each county for road use. By comparing this sum with the amount that has been spent in road construction in each county during the ten-year period, it can readily be seen that most individual counties have received far more money from the State than they are paying in automobile taxes.

The subject of the sixth lesson was "Teas." The Mothers Helpers 4-H Meal Planning Club finished their last requirement in this year's club work Tuesday night by giving a tea at the home of their leader, Miss Edith Hensley. Decorations were flowers and candles. Each member helped in making the sandwiches, punch, cakes and ice cream. All parents and friends of the members were present, making fifty in number. A discussion on the Achievement Day program which was held August 3, was held.

The 4-H Meal Planning Club has taught the members to select and prepare meals that will contribute to our own good health; to plan, prepare and serve attractive, economical and healthful meals, for the family when mother is ill or away, and to assist her at other times. To entertain their friends and those of our family simply and graciously; to use to the best advantage and to appreciate home grown products; to do the work involved in meal planning with greater ease, speed and pleasure.

COAST GUARD BOAT CRIPPLED IN COLLISION WITH 90-FOOT WHALE

New London, Conn., August 29. A 100-foot coast guard boat limped toward Boston for repairs today after it came out second best in an encounter with a 90-foot whale.

The Welborn C. Wood, a 1,000-ton craft sighted the whale Saturday night. It swam directly toward the boat and a head-on collision seemed imminent. Just before the boat struck it, the big fish flopped over on its back and tried to dive under the craft.

The whale struck the vessel with a terrific impact, bending one propeller and damaging a turbine. A sign of the whale could be seen after the crash. It apparently was injured.

Hume-William Powell established shoe shop here.

The London Times' Algiers correspondent reports that for the past week there has been unusual barometric depression in Southern Algeria, accompanied by constant dry and fairly dense mists, followed by violent sandstorms. Messages from places in the south of Oran Department state that many of these mists have been accompanied by falls of whitish, odorless and tasteless matter of a farinaceous kind, which covered tents and vegetation each morning. Old inhabitants remember this happening some 60 years ago, which they still refer to as "l'annee de la farine". The occurrence obviously recalls the manna of the Bible.

4-H CLUB IS ACTIVE IN PHARRIS RIDGE COMMUNITY

By Miss Geneva Tetley, Pres. The Pharris Ridge Community 4-H Meal Planning Club held its first meeting at the home of the local leader, Miss Edith Hensley, May 18, with five members present. The following officers were elected: President, Geneva Tetley; Vice-President, Zelma Kem; Secretary-Treasurer, Vera Tetley; Cheer Leader, Edwyna Johnson and Club Reporter, Evelyn Tetley. Following the distribution of Club circulars and record books, came a general review of club requirements, and a discussion of the main events for the year, and preparation of a calendar of events.

In that manner, individual and club goals were established. The next order of business was the making of plans for the next meeting. Lessons were assigned and height and weight health score cards issued and explained. The first lesson was a study of "Meal Planning for Health".

The Club selected the name "Mothers Helpers" at the meeting, and decided to hold regular sessions each Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock, at the homes of members. A committee appointed to select appropriate songs chose "America the Beautiful," "Smiles," "Hail, Hail, the Club's All Here," and "Vegetables." A social hour was taken up in playing games.

The "Mothers Helpers" Club held its second meeting at the home of the cheer leader Edwyna Johnson on the following Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock, with all members present.

The Club officers were in charge. The President called the meeting to order with the members standing and repeating the national 3-H Club pledge. The roll was called, each member responded by giving a short report of "Meal Planning for Health". Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The meeting was then turned over to the local leader, followed by an hour of discussion in answering questions. The assignment for the third meeting was "Breakfast for a 4-H Club Girl", requiring each member to prepare a breakfast for a family of five in at least twenty-five minutes. At the second hour, the Club adjourned.

Requirements during the Club year were soup once, vegetable cocktail once. Ten vegetables prepared in at least five different ways, twice each. Salads—one fruit, four vegetables and one meat, fish or egg salad. Five different desserts. Meats, one tough cut and one tender cut. The Club had to plan, prepare and serve alone, a breakfast, a vegetable dinner, a dinner with meat and to write menu plans for three days.

A month's meeting, Zelma Kem dropped the work, but we were requested to finish the Club as we would get full credit for the work.

News of the Town

By Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone spent Tuesday in St. Louis.

Mrs. Loomis Mayfield will be hostess to the Friday Bridge Club this week.

C. E. Bratton, who has been confined to his home since last Friday on account of sickness, was thought to be better yesterday.

James M. Klein, Mrs. Murray Klein and Miss Camille Klein were in St. Genevieve, yesterday, where the former transacted business.

Miss Almetra Sidwell of Cape Girardeau and Mrs. Emma Ogilvie Clack of Charleston visited Mr. and Mrs. Chris Francis, Monday and Tuesday.

Mrs. W. W. Lankford and daughters, Miss Freda and Mary Ann, Mrs. Gus Schmidt, Miss Helen Johnson and Mrs. W. C. Walker of Memphis, Tenn., were Cape Girardeau visitors yesterday.

Miss Dorothy Schwab, who is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwab, will return to Cape Girardeau the last of the week to finish her business course at the Latimer Business College.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lambert of St. Louis and Miss Bessie and Jessie Lambert of East St. Louis, Ill., spent last Saturday and Sunday here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moore and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone.

Miss Hazel Lumsden will leave Saturday, September 3, for Central College, Fayette. She will motor to Fayette with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lumsden. The latter two plan to spend the early part of the week in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Watson of Charleston and Mrs. C. W. Smoot of Miner, who for the past three weeks have been visiting their brother, John S. Watson, of Blue Ridge, Alta, Canada are expected home Saturday. This was the first time in 16 years that the brothers and sisters had been together and it is the wish of the Southeast Missourians to have their brother return with them.

Mrs. Roy Wagner and children spent last week-end in Lutesville visiting the former's sisters, Mrs. Charles Rogers and Mrs. Harry Hawkins. They returned Monday night, accompanied by Mrs. Rogers and son, Charles Robert, who will visit here until Saturday. From Sikeston, Mrs. Rogers and son will go to Bernie for a visit with Mrs. Maud Higginbotham before returning to their home at Lutesville.

Tuesday the annual W. M. U. officers meeting of the Charleston Ass'n. was held at Morley. The meeting convened at 10 o'clock with a basket dinner served at noon. In the afternoon a business session was held with election of officers for next year. All the old officers were re-elected excepting the personal service chairman, Mrs. Sikes of Oran, being elected for the ensuing year. The Sikeston W. M. U. officers attending were: Mrs. Jas. McCabe, Mrs. Miley Limbaugh, Mrs. Dave Reese, Mrs. C. M. Taylor, Miss Millie Jones and Mrs. Dora Suvers and Mrs. Jesse Hamby also were present, the latter being the Young People's leader of the Association.

Canalou 4-H Club Achievement Program Held August 16th

The Canalou 4-H Sow and Litter Club had their Club Achievement program at the School Building at Canalou Tuesday, August 16. Eleven members had completed their projects and had their sows and litters on the grounds for exhibit. These were Beulah Newman, Marguerite Haywood, Gracie Newman, Herman Haywood, Wilson Moore, Bertis Moore, Nelson Gruen, Rees Spencer, Heron Sims and Don Alexander, and Bertie Sims.

These pigs were secured from the Cape Girardeau Teachers' College last summer on the return pig plan—that is, the member secures a gilt this summer and agrees to pay for it with two pigs from the gilt's first litter next summer.

These original gilts were valued at $5 each when the club boys received them. The records show that they consumed an average of $12.35 worth of feed. These gilts farrowed on an average of 5.4 pigs of which an average of 5.4 pigs were raised. The average estimated value of these gilts and

Trees are far from haphazard in reseeding forest land, says the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. As a rule seeds liberated from a tree at the same instant are scattered in a straight line to leeward of the tree.

If all seeds produced by a tree were to be released at one time this would result in an undesirable concentration of seeds in a limited area and a total lack of seeds in other areas. Nature has guarded against any such wasteful process. A pine cone, for example, opens one scale at a time. As the scale opens the two seeds which were borne under it drop out.

Ordinarily several days elapse between the escape of the first and last seeds from any one cone. Furthermore the cones on different

Mrs. David Lumsden spent the past week-end in St. Louis.

About 25 couples enjoyed a chicken barbecue at the Washout, last night.

Mrs. Glenn Keller of Cape Girardeau spent Tuesday night here with her sister, Mrs. John Husher and family.

The Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting next Thursday evening, September 8.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stoner and son, Reece, of Springfield, spent from last Friday until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis.

Mrs. W. S. Smith and daughter, Ella Helen, Mrs. W. T. Malone and Miss Nannabelle Wilson were visitors in Charleston Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoeller were called to Cape Girardeau Wednesday on account of the death of the former's father, Joseph Hoeller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Malone and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown of Charleston were guests Sunday evening of Mrs. W. C. Bahn in Cape Girardeau.

The election of the Sunday school teachers of the First Baptist church was postponed until next Wednesday evening, due to incomplete report from the departments.

The Charleston Baptist Association will convene next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 6 and 7, for a two-day session at the Miner Baptist church. State representatives will be present. A detailed program will be given in Tuesday's paper.

Last Tuesday, August 30, Miss Hazel Lumsden entertained at bridge with a surprise birthday party for her mother, Mrs. David Lumsden. The guests were: Mrs. Opal Heister, Mrs. Freida Limbaugh, Mrs. Dolly Kirby, Mrs. Nina Daugherty, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Mrs. Mary Graves and Mrs. Tessie Strain.

Mrs. W. C. Warren entertained with a party Monday afternoon, for her daughter, Juanita Boggan, who that day celebrated her 11th birthday. Games and contests were played by the guests, after which refreshments were served. The guests were: Carmen, Norma and Geraldine Davis, Betty Jo Gross, Alice and Bernice Houze, David Lumsden, Zada and Imogen, Mary Matthews Evelyn Porter, Mary Helen Croch of St. Louis, Ruth Buchholz and Geneva Probst.

The W. B. A. Westway Club held its meeting Wednesday evening with Mrs. Fred Kirby, having present 12 members and five visitors. The regular business of the Club was transacted and at this time it was decided to have a bingo party in the near future. A fruit shower was given yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Bill Shain, a sick member. The next meeting of the Club will be on Wednesday evening, September 14, with Mrs. Frank Dye. At this time the husbands of the members will be invited. After the business session, the social hour was spent in playing bingo, prizes being given as follows: First, Mrs. Elmos Taylor; second, Mrs. Charles Bethune and booby, Mrs. Frank Dye.

parts of the same trees do not all open at the same time. One tree may be casting seed for several weeks. Variations in direction and velocity of the wind during this period result in widespread scattering of the seeds.

Under certain unusual conditions tree seeds may be carried for many miles. Possibly this may not occur with one seed in a million, but the fact is of great interest in explaining the occurrence of scattered specimens far from seed trees.

Tindal's New Testament, printed first abroad in 1525, aroused a fierce controversy. It was condemned by the bishop of London and the ecclesiastical authorities. It was declared full of errors and heretical in tone and tendency. Wherever found it was ordered to be burnt.

JUDGE RAPS SYSTEM OF HANDLING PRISONERS

Editor Sikeston Standard,

Dear Editor:

You asked in your issue of Tuesday morning, who the two mysterious strangers were, who were held in jail from the small hours in the morning until late in the evening without food. I would cheerfully answer your query if I could. I only know there were two men in jail. I do not know why they were locked in, or who locked them in. There are two keys to the jail. Mr. Kendall and Mr. Swanner has control of one, and Mr. Daniels, the other one. Mr. Swanner or Mr. Kendall know nothing of the why's and the wherefores of the incarceration of the prisoners, so they tell me. And there was no report of any kind made to me as Police Judge or as Justice of the Peace. Therefore, I am as ignorant as you.

I wish to remind you and the public, because I have been asked whether or not I had any part in each other's arrest for the same offense some other person was arrested for. I have no control of the actions of the Police and know nothing of their activities unless they bring the case to court, which they are supposed to do if an arrest has been made.

Many people believe that the Police Judge and Police Officer are one and the same. This is not true. They are both elective offices and separate and distinct from each other. The Mayor only has jurisdiction above them, so in the future if there is any complaint of the Police, the Mayor is the proper person to go to. There is a so-called police committee appointed by the Mayor, who can only function as courtesy to the Mayor, but legally they have no jurisdiction in police matters.

JOS. W. MYERS, Police Judge.

Carbon Monoxide Gas menace Remains Despite Campaigns; Proper Ventilation Is Urged

By Dr. Morris Finbein

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

With the coming of the first cold spell, newspapers will begin to contain new accounts of exposure to carbon monoxide gas. Indeed, there have appeared frequently throughout the summer records of men who died while under their automobiles with the engines running in closed garages.

The report of the Ohio State Department of Health just made public indicated 70 persons who took a chance with this dangerous gas in connection with domestic heating appliances and 82 in connection with automobile exhaust fumes during the year ending June 30, 1932.

The chief domestic appliances involved in the records of such accidents are heaters without flues used in bedrooms and bathrooms, and occasionally a kitchen gas range or a hot plate. Three deaths occurred among tramps living in a shanty, who used charcoal in a bucket for heating purposes.

It is pointed out that Benjamin Franklin was so impressed with the danger from this combination that he invented the stove or the furnace and gave patent rights free to the world in 1750.

A few people thought that they could get more heat out of a gas flame by putting something on top of it such as a plate or a bread toaster and instead released a sufficient amount of monoxide gas into the room to make them seriously sick or to cause death.

There were 82 cases of poisoning from motor exhaust fumes in which 43 were fatal.

In one instance death occurred in a closed car which the driver was trying to drive through a river. Several deaths occurred during the winter among people who kept the motor running with the car standing still in order to keep the interior warm.

Several persons had narrow escapes in garages under houses which are practically always insufficiently ventilated.

Year after year the warning is issued as to the danger of this menace to health and life, but year after year the number of deaths continues to reveal the breadth of the menace. Safety lies only in suitable ventilation and in proper apparatus for conducting poisonous gases away.

SCOTT COUNTY CLUB WOMEN'S MEETING SET FOR FRIDAY, SEPT. 16

The Neighborhood Women's Clubs of Scott County will hold a joint meeting at New Hamburg on Friday, September 16, at 2 p. m. Miss Flora Lee Carl of the College of Agriculture will, at this time, give a demonstration on "New Ways of Preparing Vegetables". This is the second of a series of four meetings to be held with the five clubs in Scott County. The last meeting was held on Canning, at which time seventy-six were in attendance, and each of the clubs stated that there will be more attending this time, than the last meeting.

DOES NOT FIND ONE LAW-REFORMED WET

New York, August 30.—The bus Diogenes, carrying the Prohibition Research Committee, reached here today, having covered 12,000 miles since June 1 while its five members combed thirty-six States and the District of Columbia in an effort to find one drunkard reformed by the passage of the eighteenth amendment.

Paul Morris of the University of Wisconsin, director of the expedition, related some of the adventures. "We have yet to find a single law-reformed drunkard or a single family in the whole of the United States who has benefitted by the passage of the eighteenth amendment," Morris said. "Of course, we found many alcoholic addicts who had given up drink for one reason or another. But never from statutory compulsion. Investigation always showed them to have reformed for some other reason."

"One of the most interesting interviews we had was in Washington. We called on Col. Woodcock, the prohibition administrator, but he was away and so we talked to his assistant, E. R. Sanford. During the conversation, Mr. Sanford said: "No law ever stopped anyone from drinking in this country or any other. And anybody, under prohibition, can get a drink who wants it'. A few of the papers hit on that statement and it was afraid Mr. Sanford might lose his job, but he didn't".

If a piece of elastic is sewn to upper inside edge of the pockets in children's sweaters, pockets will not sag.

Neosho—Leibhart and Hammers, this city, received contract for erection of 10-room Diamond Consolidated school building, to cost about $25,000.

Always brush a mud-stained garment from the top to the bottom. You will never free it entirely from dirt if you try to brush against the warp.

When the bristles of the carpet-sweeper become soft from use put a little common baking soda in some hot water, take the brush from the sweeper, dip it up and down in this solution and let dry in the sun.

After a bottle of glue has been opened rub a little fat or oil around a sound cork before inserting it in the bottle and the cork will pull out quite easily. Glass stoppers should be treated in the same manner.

New Truxton—O'Dell Construction Co. graveling five miles farm-to-market road from pavement north on road leading to this place.

They Say—Says The Man About Town

By ART L. WALLHAUSEN

We have heard of Frank Merriwell and his combination zig zag rise and drop ball, of Christy Mathewson, the big train with his famous fadaway, of Herb Pruett, the Dexter flash, with his roundhouse puzzler, of the eccentric Rube Waddell, with his bewildering curves and blinding speed, of Tod Sloan of rough seam sail-or fame, of Smokev Joe Wood and his fire ball, but it remains for our own Abie Fotashnick to develop the most astounding scheme for propelling a ball through the atmosphere from tee to green in absolute defiance of golf rules, and Gallelio's law of gravity.

Says Abie, he has lately developed a phenomenal drive from the golf tee . . . a left handed, cork-screw, up, down and outside screw-ball slicer, which Sunday enabled him to shoot par golf and finish fifth in a five-man foursome.

Leasburg—Work on new farm-to-market Highway leading from this city to Onondaga Cave, progressing rapidly.

Dalton—Herschel Malone acquired management of grocery store formerly operated by Rene Hunt. Mexico—International Shoe Factory plant operating steadily.

Excelsior Springs—Tom Kernaghan purchased local store from Consumers Meat Co. Baring—Whalen's Cafe moved to new location near Hotel Baring. Odessa—Odessa Cannery to open for canning tomatoes shortly.

Albany—Incinerator may be erected here. Farmington—Newly completed postoffice building in occupancy. Bonne Terre—J. P. Grandhomme erecting new greenhouse here. Cameron—120-acre site south of here purchased for proposed Wallace State Park.

Knox City—Higraide Oil Co. installed ladies' rest room at their station. Kennett—Kohn Bros. leased Shelton Gin. Carrollton—Fashionist Shop moved to new location on North Main Street. Russellville—W. E. Martin of Eldon, purchased "Russellville Rustler". Rolla—County Extension office moved to postoffice building.

40 Miles From Sikeston Is OUT OF BOUNDS

In business, as in golf, the big idea is to shoot the course in as few strokes as possible. Not how many, mind you, but how few. Shanked shots, stubbed shots, topped shots, hooks and fades, all this is the mark of the dub or, worse still, the man who doesn't care.

In advertising therefore, no more teeing up an appropriation and banging away blindly at it, not giving a hang whether it stays in or slices—over into SCATTERVILLE.

Dividends are born, not of sales, but of sales AT A PROFIT. Wasteful advertisting, no less than wasteful production, will wipe out the margin of profit. It's good business now to concentrate both your money and effort where the population is thickest, where the buying power is greatest, where there are plenty of live, close-together prospects—in other words, in Sikeston and its territory where the cost of reaching prospects with advertising is low and where you get the quickest action on your money.

Twice-A-Week Sikeston Standard

Carries Over 70 Per Cent of the Advertising Appealing to the 70,000 People Living in the Sikeston Territory

Wise advertisers are now fully in accord on one thing—namely, that the time has come to stop buying circulation that goes far beyond the frontiers of their market. As a result, they are manifesting a great, new interest in what percentage of concentrated, usable circulation newspapers deliver.

The Sikeston Standard has the most highly concentrated local circulation of any Sikeston newspaper. 90 pct. of it stays close to home, in the city and its adjoining market, where it does advertisers the most good. Nine hundred out of every ten hundred copies are delivered twice-a-week in this compact local market of 70,000 people with annual spendable incomes aggregating more than 10,500,000 dollars.

Keep your advertising appropriation in the fairway—invest it in The Standard where results are positive and the cost score low.
